Possessing many of the facilities of a university, but rendering the services and offering the friendliness of the small liberal arts college, Ohio Wesleyan gives each of the individuals within its influence, whether student or faculty member, a place in its society. In this manner, Ohio Wesleyan prepares its students for living, placing emphasis upon participation and comprehension rather than upon the mastery of a limited skill. In this experimental society, the student and the professor develop new techniques and ideas, trying to win and to attain the goal beyond their reach, but also learning to accept defeat without faltering; going on to gain achievement at another time or in another field. Through Le Bijou 1958, we give our interpretation of Ohio Wesleyan's strength, and hope to demonstrate that the Ohio Wesleyan students and faculty members are Individuals In An Experimental Society.

Le Bijou, 1958, is dedicated to Herman M. Shipps, Ohio Wesleyan Vice President and Director of University Relations, 1921-1958, Chairman of the Publications Board.

In Classrooms—

Lectures are not the sole means of making knowledge available during the comparatively short periods of classroom instruction. Classes are geared to the idea that an individual should be given the opportunity to acquire his education through a variety of methods including discussion, seminars, field trips and individual conferences. Ohio Wesleyan is an institution whose relatively small size makes it possible for the individual to test new theories or re-prove old ones.

This is true of virtually every area of the University, and whether the student succeeds or fails in his efforts, the learning process continues.

A sociology class prepares to board a bus for Columbus where they will witness the many experiments being conducted at Ohio State University.

Prof. Sam Pratt clarifies a reading assignment for Buzz Richards following class.

Panel discussions help the student to see the many facets of a problem.

Evening seminars, such as this one at the home of Prof. Ruth Davies, stimulate an informal type of give and take that is not possible in a classroom situation.

In International Relations—

Foreign students make up an important part of the "Ohio Wesleyan Family." These persons come from all parts of the world and furnish valuable opportunities for Ohio Wesleyan students to develop international understanding and to re-evaluate their own way of life as seen through the eyes of the visitors.

Some of these students return to their homelands as professional people or educators, while others remain in this country for graduate study or careers, but, in either case, they have provided many occasions for learning as well as having shared in the accumulated knowledge and experience of Ohio Wesleyan.

In Government —

Within the Ohio Wesleyan community, the individual is given ample opportunity to learn about and to develop an interest in politics. One of the University's most valuable educational bonus programs is the Washington Semester when as many as five OWU students each year may spend a semester at American University in Washington, D.C., studying the operation of a democracy first hand. In an attempt to impress the Ohio Wesleyan community with the vital nature of intelligent participation in government on every level, the nationally-known Ben A. Arneson Institute of Practical Politics sponsors political speakers throughout the year, plans and implements Republican and Democratic Days in the spring and offers a "first voters" instructional program.

The Student Government elections committee has control of all student government elections. Here, they determine the results of a recent ballot.

In Athletics—

The athletic programs at Ohio Wesleyan are a reflection of the experimental society of a liberal arts college. Emphasis is placed on the individual and his particular abilities; the development of the individual is stressed more than a "sure" victory. This approach to athletics has resulted in a hard competitive spirit and a high degree of sportsmanship. In this way the occasional set-backs have become part of the learning process at Ohio Wesleyan.

The pole vaulter goes up, but under the bar. Within the Ohio Wesleyan society, he is free to continue his efforts until he achieves his goal, or to transfer his energies to a new goal in another area.

There is recognition for all, even the coach, when a job is well done.

The necessity lor cooperation is nowhere more obvious than in $\boldsymbol{\alpha}$ relay.

Bob Henretty and Jack Batty receive valuable experience in newspaper layout as they prepare another Transcript page at the Westerville print shop.

In Communications—

Recognizing that communication is a vital part of any society, Ohio Wesleyan provides many forms of expression for its students, ranging from a literary magazine to a completely student-operated newspaper. Radio Station WSLN offers endless possibilities, as do speech and debate activities, for students to put their ideas and philosophies into concrete terms that are meaningful to others. Formal instruction in all these fields guides the work of the student journalists, writers and debaters, attention being given to building a fund of resource material from all fields. Knowledge that all areas of communication operate under supervision rather than censorship leads students to understand the value of a sense of responsibility and good judgment even though this very freedom, used within the experimental society of Ohio Wesleyan, may occasionally produce undesirable or disappointing results.

Tony Kidd practices debating techniques on his classmates.

In addition to the Transcript, Owl and Le Bijou, students have other outlets for their written work. The Ohio Wesleyan Magazine, six-times-a-year alumni publication, often prints articles by students, and student assistants in the News & Information Service help with news releases and University publications such as the Freshman Handbook. Also each of the 27 national fraternities and sororities publishes local and national magazines to which students may contribute material.

The engineer gives the signal and another student is given the chance to hear how her voice sounds over the air.

In Fraternities and Sororities—

The values of fraternities and sororities are to many people, often including the members, nebulous. An infinite number of reasons why students pledge themselves to Greek organizations may be cited, some shallow, others deep and sincere, and, here again, we find that what one believes or derives from this type of organization is largely up to the individual.

At Ohio Wesleyan the Greek letter fraternity plays a large part in the experimental society. A spirit of idealism lies beneath these associations, and dissimilar individuals learn to subordinate their interests to the will of the group, at the same time realizing that through the separate contributions of the members, the organization may acquire a personality and develop qualities which may make it unique within its community.

A freshman pledge is given an enthusiastic welcome.

Later he learns that pledge life is not always easy.

Sorority houses provide a place for relaxation, social functions and various organizational meetings. Monday at 7 p.m. means sorority meeting for Pi Beta Phi, as well as for the 11 other national sororities on campus.

In Education —

Working with children in their own school environment is one of the best ways for prospective teachers to learn of the situations they will face in their own classrooms. Qualified supervising teachers give the student teachers and observers valuable insights gained from years of experience. Through work in the University's nursery school, Ohio Wesleyan students are able to study the behavior of pre-kindergarten age children. All of these carefully supervised teaching and observing activities make up another facet of the experimental society where individuals may question and plan and test methods and materials before they are "on their own."

Betty Crider, student teacher at Delaware Willis, lectures to her biology class.

In Extra-curricular Activities —

Exposure of the student to more than the academic is recognition of not only the value of extra-curricular activities, but also points out the need for developing judgments and for integrating both academic and extra-curricular to keep a workable balance within the OWU society. The realm of extra-curricular activities is one of unlimited opportunity which can become valuable only through intelligent participation. If the individual can come to realize the parallel between extracurricular and academic and post-college positions and their supplementary activities, he will have made progress toward developing a healthy pattern of life.

A Home Economics Club project involves making dolls and aprons for a nursery school at the Sri Avinashilingam Home Science College in Coimbatore, India.

In Dramatics —

No better example of the complex processes necessary for the achievement of a goal can be found than in the dramatic activities of the OWU community. Here students learn that the glamour of opening night is only possible through the steady and accurate completion of thousands of details, none of which may be apparent to the play-goer.

Stage and light crews, property managers, costume designers and ticket salesmen all come to understand that failure of any small part of their jobs may jeopardize the entire production. Students are also faced with utilizing all possibilities for creativity within the limits of practicality, an important lesson to be learned by members of all societies.

A finished production means many nights of intensive rehearsal. Here, members of the Carousel cast go through the opening number.

A "break" means a time to study, knit or socialize.

Sometimes the job requiring the most preparation by the student carpenters is only on stage for five minutes, as is the carousel.

In Religion —

Although Ohio Wesleyan is a Methodist-related school, and all of its students are required to enroll in a basic religion course, individuals are free to accept and to practice their religious beliefs as they understand them. Many students take an active part in the work of the Delaware churches and often pre-theological majors become student pastors or assistant pastors there. The Department of Religion, in coordination with the Director of Religious Activities, attempts to furnish many occasions for students to examine all faiths and to make beginnings toward formulating meaningful concepts of their own. However, no efforts are made to pressure students into reaching conclusions, but only to open channels for thought, believing that in this, as in any society, the ultimate determinant of religious convictions must be the individual.

And In Residence Hall Living

Group living is a factor which provides unparalleled opportunities for growth through associations with a wide group of students. Here the idea of an experimental society becomes very concrete. A residence hall is a place for study, discussions and recreation in addition to being the base of operations for several hundred individuals. Within the residence hall, life is regulated to a degree. but within these limitations, found in any progressive society. individuals are free to organize their own work and play schedules. This does not always come easily, but those who are able to make the adjustments find that the sharing of possessions and resources and the general de-emphasis of self becomes a rewarding pattern for living.

Approximately 75 per cent of the freshman men spend their first year in one of two modern residence halls.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Through a multiplicity of "extra" occasions, the Ohio Wesleyan student and faculty member take time out to entertain a parent, honor a former president, premier a film, dance until 1 a.m. and visit with alumni and campus visitors. These events do not just happen, neither are they the work of one person, but involve considerable effort on the part of many students and faculty members with the majority of the responsibility usually falling upon the Special Days Committee.

OWU Mothers Recognized At 56th Monnett Weekend

Every spring for the past 56 years a weekend has been set aside especially to honor the mothers. Monnett Weekend has become one of Ohio Wesleyan's most honored traditions. At this time mothers have the opportunity to see where and how the students live and to share with them the pride in the recognition of some of those who have helped to make the year successful. Last spring's festivities began with a Mother-Daughter banquet in each residence hall, followed by the AWS procession and crowning of newly-elected executive and judicial presidents of AWS, Carolyn Strecker and Emily Kerr, the ROTC Drill Team parade and corps of sponsors, and the home economics style show and tea. The mothers' college weekend was completed with midnight serenades by several fraternities.

Dad's Day-Homecoming Honors Bishop Welch

The 95th birthday of former Ohio Wesleyan President Bishop Herbert Welch, was a highlight of the combined Homecoming-Dad's Day activities. Rev. Bob Richards, internationally famous pole vaulter, spoke at the Dad's Day dinner and at the Convocation and Ohio Wesleyan alumnus Dr. Ralph Sockman, minister of Christ Church, New York City, was the Friday chapel speaker. Vice President Herman M. Shipps was speaker for a special chapel service on Saturday. Meetings of the Board of Trustees, the Alumni Directors, the Alumni Fund Council and the Ohio Wesleyan Associates were held during the weekend.

First OWU Film Seen At Winter Homecoming

Ohio Wesleyan's first documentary film, "The Lamp," produced and directed by Indianapolis senior Don Hughes and Larry Ross, a 1957 graduate of OWU, and narrated by Lowell Thomas, was premiered during Winter Homecoming. A color and sound film depicting the life of a medium-sized liberal arts, co-educational college, the production was two years in the making and has been printed in two lengths, one a 28-minute version and the other lasting 37 minutes. Hughes is also the author of the script, and Rod Warner, a 1957 graduate, shares the narration with Thomas. Robert Wiemer, Detroit junior, was assistant director, special musical themes were provided by the Beale Street Six, sound recording was by alumni David Sauer and Daniel Bradley and Robert Hunt, Dayton senior. Art direction was by Elliott Sluhan, Toledo sophomore.

Linda Draves Chosen 1958 Le Bijou Queen

Reigning as this year's Le Bijou Queen is Linda Draves, who was nominated as a candidate by Perkins Hall. Queen Linda, a freshman Delta Gamma, was chosen for her natural beauty and photographic qualities by a committee of journalism department faculty members and members of the Le Bijou staff. Miss Draves makes her home in New Hyde Park, New York, and was preceded on the Ohio Wesleyan campus by two other members of her family. She has spent the past few summers participating in Youth Hostels in the New England states and is planning to go abroad soon, where she can combine this interest with that of her German major.

Carolyn Alexander and Linda Zehring are the attendants to Queen Linda. Attractive, blond, Carolyn Alexander is former secretary of the student government and president of Kappa Kappa Gamma. The 22-year-old senior from Cincinnati has been active in the YWCA, Panhellenic Council and Dolphinettes. In addition to her many sorority responsibilities, Carolyn has served on several AWS Dorm Committees. Upon graduation, she is planning to teach history and social studies.

Linda Zehring, charming, blue-eyed, blond Pi Beta Phi sophomore, whose captivating smile is admired everywhere she goes, makes her home in Silver Spring, Md. Linda was recently elected AWS social chairman for the coming year, and has served as a member of the AWS constitutional revisions committee. A home economics major, she plans to do demonstration work in the home economics field. Her participation in Junior Panhellenic Council, A Cappella Choir and various Christian leadership training programs reflects Linda's warm, sincere interest in people.

Military Ball Sponsored By Arnold Air Society

This year, for the first time, the Military Ball was opened to the entire student body. The dance, which is sponsored by the Arnold Air Society of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, was held March 22 in Edwards Gymnasium.

The air cadets were uniformed, as were numerous service veterans who were the honored guests. Music was furnished by Emile Leon and his orchestra. Decorations included Air Force promotional displays and aircraft models which were procured from the Wright Air Development Center at Dayton.

Students Eagerly Await Spring Fever Release

One of the most pleasant of all Ohio Wesleyan traditions is Spring Fever Day, a day selected in late April or early May by the Special Days Committee chairman along with the student body president, when all classes are called off for 24 hours.

With the ringing of the Monnett bell at 5 p.m., students head for their favorite picnic grounds. A dance is held in the evening and, the next morning, the fraternity houses hold breakfasts for the women. At noon, the men may get box lunches at the women's residence halls. In the afternoon, picnics start again, but, in the evening, it's back to the books for some.

Women Pay Back Men At Golddigger's Ball

Panhellenic Council's girl-ask-boy dance, the Gold-digger's Ball, was held with a "suppressed desires" theme March 29 in Edwards Gymnasium. Using many and varied modes of travel, the women called for their dates and presented them with homemade corsages which were designed to denote the women's suppressed desires.

Many of the women also took their dates to dinner. After the man had a chance to repay his date for all of the inexpensive dates she had had with him, they went to the dance. Music was furnished by Ernie Wollfly and the Gormanaires.

St. Nick, Sandman Greet Dawn Dancers

Santa Claus, entertainment and a dance band greeted the blurry-eyed couples who were daring enough to awake for the annual AWS-sponsored Dawn Dance which was held December 14 in the MUB ballroom. The girl-ask-boy affair begins at 5 a.m., when the women go to fraternity houses, residence halls and private homes to arouse their dates from slumber.

The methods of waking the men are numerous and all considered undesirable by the men. They include squirting perfume, shaving or whipping cream, as well as the old-fashioned water drenching.

Coach Les Michael, who portrayed jolly old St. Nick, had humorous gifts for many of the early risers and music was provided by the Campus Quintet.

Religious Emphasis Week Divided Into 2 Programs

The annual campus-wide Religious Emphasis Week was approached in a new way this year with two separate programs, one in the fall and one centered around the February Merrick Lectures.

A "person-centered" approach to the fall period of religious emphasis resulted in a program which featured Dr. Joseph Fletcher, professor at the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., as keynote speaker and resource person.

The program, headed by Ed Geiger, functioned around the idea, "The Theme is YOU." It was hoped that the activities of the week provided opportunities for students to explore the meaning and worth of persons in terms of the Christian faith and the University community.

During the Merrick Lectures, which were given by Dr. Jerald C. Brauer, Dean of the Federated Faculty, Theological School of the University of Chicago, in February, students and faculty met informally with Dean Brauer during coffee hours, luncheons and seminars to discuss the ideas he presented in his lectures and in a booklet, "Basic Questions for the Christian Scholar," written by Dean Brauer and distributed among faculty and students before the lectures.

Lecture-Movie, Artist Bring Best To OWU

Ohio Wesleyan was fortunate this year to have one of its most impressive Lecture-Movie and Artists Series. The Lecture-Movie Series was opened with a talk by Dr. Ralph Lapp, head of the Nuclear Physics Division of the Office of Naval Research. Dr. Lapp was followed by such outstanding persons as Vincent Price, actor and art critic; Eugene Exman, who discussed the life and works of Albert Schweitzer; the American author-painter e. e. cummings; Welsh actor-playwright Emlyn Williams, who portrayed the late Dylan Thomas, and the Dublin Players, who gave two performances of "Juno and the Paycock." Six award-winning movies completed the 1957-58 program.

Two symphony orchestras highlighted this year's Artist Series. The Cleveland Symphony, conducted by George Szell appeared for the second consecutive season, and Gray Chapel was also the scene of a concert by the Minneapolis Symphony, under the baton of Antal Dorati. Other featured artists were Rita Streich, German coloratura soprano; Zino Francescatti, French violinist; the Virtuosi di Roma, chamber orchestra, and Gary Graffman, talented young American pianist.

Preliminary excavation and construction for Phillips Hall. In the foreground is the Sulphur Spring which will be part of the view from the glass-walled lobby connecting the two wings of the new building.

Seen from the north, the curved, terraced structure is evidence that the building is beautiful in form as well as unique in its purpose of uniting the departments of religion, philosophy, psychology and education.

Mrs. Ellis L. Phillips takes part in the ceremony in which the cornerstone for the building which will hear her name, Kathryn Sisson Phillips Hall, was put in place during Homecoming Weekend, 1957.

A gift of three-quarters of a million dollars from the Ellis L. Phillips Foundation of New York City has added another modern building to the Ohio Wesleyan campus.

Kathryn Sisson Phillips Hall, named in honor of Mrs. Ellis L. Phillips, a 1901 graduate of Ohio Wesleyan and former Dean of Women of the University, is in limited use this semester, and is expected to be completed by the fall of 1958. The building will be dedicated during Commencement weekend in June.

The new structure reflects Mrs. Phillips' interests in education and religion, and when finished will house the departments of religion, philosophy, education and psychology.

A feature of the new building is a 250-seat triangular auditorium complete with the latest in audio-visual equipment. A special classroom, divided by a section of one-way glass through which students will be able to observe actual classes without being seen themselves, is planned for observation of teaching methods.

Ellis Rabb, stage and television actor, joined an Ohio Wesleyan cast for the April production of Shakespeare's "Hamlet," directed by Prof. R. C. Hunter. Recently returned from a tour with "Much Ado About Nothing" with Katherine Hepburn and Alfred Drake, Mr. Rabb has been artistic director and a member of the Shakespeare Company for the Antioch-Toledo Shakespeare Festival. Basil Rathbone, British actor, left the set of the Columbia Pictures' production of "The Last Hurrah," to narrate the Ohio Wesleyan presentation of "King David," oratorio by Honnegger, during Monnett Weekend. All of the OWU choral organizations and the symphony orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Rexford Keller, took part in the performance.

Change Alma Mater

After several months of discussion and debate, the Victory Song was made the official Alma Mater of Ohio Wesleyan University by a unanimous vote of the students, faculty, Board of Trustees and alumni directors. The music was written by Lawrence Morrison, a 1912 graduate of OWU, with words by Ernest B. Cole, class of 1915.

Gridders Post 4-5 Record; DeHaven Is All-Conference

The year 1957 was one of rebuilding for the football team and the Battling Bishops responded favorably by posting a 4-5 record entitling them to eighth place in the Ohio Conference. The most pronounced improvement in this year's team was its defense.

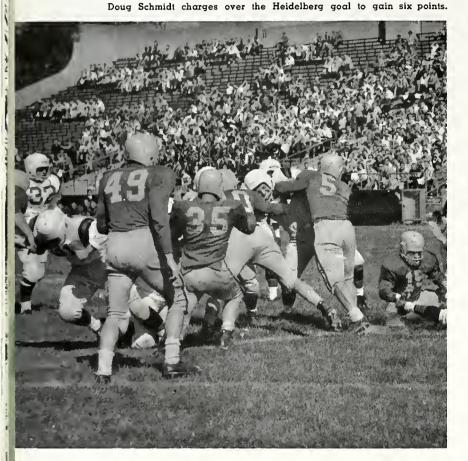

Ohio Wesleyan slipped offensively with their rushing offense averaging only 134 yards per game. OWU was also plagued by fumbles, as the ball carriers lost a record 22 of 39 fumbles. The team did display a thrilling pass offensive as quarterback Doug Schmidt threw for 838 yards and eight touchdowns to rank third among Conference passers, while sophomore Dick De-Haven received 28 tosses to rank second in that department. Schmidt established a Conference record by throwing 38 passes and completing 20 against Denison, while DeHaven set a third record with 12 receptions on the same day.

Ohio Wesleyan will have 17 lettermen returning next year and will retain the fine passing combination of DeHaven and Schmidt along with a successful defensive line anchored by DeHaven, Don Van Dyke, Max Urick, Chuck Hansen and Terry Merrell. DeHaven was elected to a spot on the All-Ohio Conference 1957-58 squad.

OWU 13 Mount Union 0

Ohio Wesleyan opened the 1957 season by playing Mount Union in a game which set the pattern for Bishop performance throughout the year. The Bishops topped the Purple Raiders 13-0 and recorded Ohio Wesleyan's first shut-out victory since 1951. A stubborn OWU defense, which allowed the Raiders a net gain of only 94 yards and which was to hold its opponents to an average of 253 yards during the season, thrilled the Ohio Wesleyan spectators who had seen their team allow 387 yards per game in 1956. The Bishops' offense gained 215 yards against Mount Union and averaged 233 yards per game during 1957. Both touchdowns in this game came on passes by Doug Schmidt.

OWU 16 Heidelberg 21

In their first home game before a crowd of 5,500 fans the Bishops bowed to Heidelberg 21-16 in a hard-fought battle. Until the last three minutes of the game a fine Bishop defense had gained a 16-7 lead over the favored Princes. In those last three minutes, however, Jim Gruden, Heidelberg quarterback, threw for two touchdowns while completing five out of six passes. Schmidt scored twice in the game and Red Shearer scored a 16-yard field goal and an extra point.

Jim Rogers is tackled by several Heidelberg players after gaining yardage on an end sweep.

OWU 16 Wooster 14

The Bishops tripped up undefeated Wooster by winning 16-14. Once again OWU's defense proved itself. The Scots, who had averaged 340 yards in previous games, were held to 107 yards. John Papp of Wooster, third leading passer in the Ohio Conference, completed only one pass, while an alert Bishop defense intercepted five of his tosses. The Bishops, who were inside the 35-yard line nine times, were hampered only by their own eight fumbles. Shearer's 13-yard field goal on the last play of the first half provided the margin of victory.

Ohio Wesleyan's most disappointing performance of the year came against Akron when the Bishops lost 20-0 to a powerful Zip eleven. Playing a night game in the Rubber Bowl, OWU was able to gain only 136 yards and was never able to penetrate inside the Akron 10-yard line. The Zips, on the other hand, led by sophomore quarterback John Stone, who completed seven out of nine passes for 149 yards, rolled for 352 yards over the previously adept Bishop defense.

The 1951 OWU Ohio Conference Champions were the honored quests at the Wooster game and saw a 16-14 Bishop victory.

Oberlin 0

Ohio Wesleyan traveled to Oberlin and romped to a 26-0 victory before the Yeoman Homecoming crowd. Oberlin outgained Ohio Wesleyan 313 to 235 yards as Yeoman passers completed 14 tosses for 203 yards, but the Bishop defense stiffened and stopped the Yeoman on the ground whenever they threatened. The opportunistic Bishops turned three of seven Oberlin fumbles into touchdowns. Terry Williams, OWU tailback, picked up 67 yards rushing and 39 on pass receptions, and he scored one touchdown to lead the Bishop attack. Late in the second period Mike Hall caught a pass from Doug Schmidt for a touchdown. Schmidt and Dick Orahood also scored in the easy Ohio Wesleyan victory.

OWU 13 Wabash 35

Before a capacity Homecoming crowd at Wabash, OWU lost 35-13. With less than one minute left in the first half, Wabash was leading 7-0. Seconds later the Bishops changed the score with a touchdown pass from Schmidt to Hall. With lightning swiftness the Little Giants came back to score, ending the first half with a 14-6 lead. The scoring had not ended, however, for after the second half opened, Wabash twice recovered fumbles deep in Bishop territory and drove through for two more touchdowns. The other Wabash score came on an 84-yard pass interception.

This field goal attempt brought unwanted national publicity to the Bishops as Case halfback Jim Rudge returned it for a 109-yard touchdown run.

OWU 34

Case 12

Playing before a combined Homecoming and Dad's Day crowd of 7,235, which was the largest of the season, the Bishops rolled to a 34-12 victory over Case Institute of Technology. All but one of the touchdowns in the game were set up by fumbles. Ohio Wesleyan pounced on eight of the 10 Rough Rider fumbles while Case took advantage of four of the six Bishop miscues. The other score in the game came when Case halfback Jim Rudge picked up an unsuccessful field goal attempt in the Case end zone and ran 109 yards unmolested by the Bishops' freshly substituted new platoon on the field. Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops ran through Case for 306 yards and 16 first downs, while allowing the Rough Riders only 129 yards.

OWU 13 Wittenberg 20

OWU played Wittenberg on even terms throughout a hard fought ball game, but lost to the Lutherans 20-13. The Bishop defense held Wittenberg to 124 yards on the ground, but gave up 168 yards through the air. The turning point of the game came when the Bishops elected not to punt and then failed to make a first down on their own 31-yard line. Five plays later Wittenberg scored. The final blow came when the Bishops ended their last drive by fumbling on the Wittenberg 23-yard line.

OWU 14 Denison 40

The final game of the year was lost to Denison 40-14. The Big Red eleven raced for three touchdowns in the first three minutes forcing the Bishops to rely on passing early in the game. Before the contest ended, OWU's Doug Schmidt had completed 20 out of 38 passes, while Dick DeHaven received 12 passes for a new conference record. A crunching ground attack, however, netted the Denison team 391 yards through a defense which had held eight previous opponents to an average of 118 yards per game.

Harriers Win Conference; Take Second In All-Ohio

Athletics Director Emeritus George Gauthier returned as a member of the Ohio Wesleyan coaching staff to lead the cross country squad to its second consecutive Ohio Conference Championship. In addition, the team placed second in the All-Ohio Championship meet behind Miami and produced a dual meet record of 9-4.

The distance runners got off to a very slow start as they lost their first three meets of the season, but they rallied to win their next nine contests.

John Gutknecht, who this year established himself as Ohio Wesleyan's greatest distance runner of all time, once again paced the harriers throughout the season. For the second straight year he copped individual honors in the Conference championship and set a new meet record. Don Bourquard, Bob Groshok, Ron Marcy, Paul Szaniszlo, Alex Schoenfeld, Bill Lawrence and Dave Folkerth completed the squad and showed the spirit and determination vital to a successful cross country team. Gutknecht traveled to East Lansing, Mich., to participate in the Nationals and competed against the nation's top distance runners, finishing in eleventh place.

Next year's team will not include seniors Ron Marcy and Bob Groshok, but the six returning lettermen should help the Bishops produce another strong squad.

Nagy, Templar All-Ohio As Soccer Team Wins 6

Ohio Wesleyan's 1957 Soccer team captured fourth place in an unofficial league of 11 colleges in Ohio with a record of six wins, three losses and one tie. Instrumental in helping to reverse last year's record of seven losses and one tie was Sandor Nagy, from Szony, Hungary, and Charles Templar, from Sao Paulo, Brazil, who were both selected for All-Ohio positions. The soccer team was strengthened considerably this year by the addition of six foreign students representing Hungary, Siam, Brazil and Greece.

Victories were over Denison, 3-2; Akron, 2-0; Ohio University, 3-1; Fenn, 4-2; Kenyon, 4-1, and Dayton, 2-1. OWU was defeated by Oberlin, 4-1; Ohio State, 3-2, and Earlham, 6-3, while they played to a 1-1 tie with Michigan State.

WINTER SPORTS

Along with a well-balanced academic curriculum comes the desire for keen competition which may be satisfied through sports. From the beginning of November until the end of March, this competition is derived from the extensive winter sports program. Many thrill to the fast action of basketball in Edwards Gym. Still others enjoy the perfection of the divers in a Saturday afternoon meet at Pfeiffer Natatorium or the satisfaction of a "pin" at the wrestling match.

Cagers' 5-16 Record Is Fourth Worst In History

Coach Bob Strimer's Bishop cagers finished the season with a 5-16 over-all, and a 4-12 record in the Ohio Conference. Starting the season with the hope of having one of the finest squads in the Ohio Conference, the season must be classified as one of Coach Strimer's most disappointing. Still many observers are quick to point out that although the season's over-all mark was the fourth worst in OWU basketball history, it could easily have been a winning one, as six of the defeats came by five or fewer points. It is also worth noticing that, of the eleven letter-winners, six were freshmen and sophomores. Two other letter-winners were transfers who were only eligible the second semester and were able to participate in only the last seven games.

Typical of the Bishops' unpredictable form was the case of their two games with Capital. Beaten by twenty points in their first game with the powerful Lutherans, in the second game Wesleyan played thrilling basketball in a game which saw the score tied 13 times and the lead change hands 14 times before Capital eked out a three-point victory.

The Bishops opened fast in their first game of the season with fine rebounding and shooting to beat Otterbein 80-64. But the cagers could win only two of their next seventeen games, before closing strong in their final three contests of the year, beating Oberlin 65-61, Case 96-58 and dropping the final game of the season to Wooster in a 74-73 decision. Going against teams who would invariably have three or four men over the 6'3" mark, Coach Strimer's two tallest players were 6'4" sophomore Dick Blanks and 6'4" freshman Bill Bishop. Alternating at the all-important center position these two were only able to average 5.5 and 4.7 points per game and collected only 194 rebounds between them. Much of the success of next year's team will depend upon the improvement of these two "big men" under the boards.

Gene Richter closed out a fine career at OWU by posting the sixth best free throw percentage among all small college players in the nation. Richter's 42-point performance against Case placed him second behind Ohio Wesleyan's All-American Jud Milhon, who holds the single game record of 54 points. Richter's career total of 886 points ranks fourth in OWU history. He was named honorary captain and most valuable player by his teammates and given honorable mention on the All-Conference Team by the International News Service.

Baby Bishops Win Twelve Straight In 14-4 Season

The Ohio Wesleyan Junior Varsity cagers posted an impressive 14-4 record under their new coach Brownie Cellar. The Baby Bishops started well, winning their first 12 games, but the loss of Tates Locke and Dick Faul to the varsity at midyear was evident as they won only two of their last six games. The season's high point was the game at Denison where the JV's romped 74-46 with all players scoring. High scorers for the season were Kan Lauterer, Bill Sayle, Locke, Faul and Bill Poist.

Grapplers Post 9-2 Mark In Best Season

Under the coaching of Ray Leech, the wrestling team attained a 9-2 meet record and fourth place in the Ohio Conference tournament. The 9-2 meet record was the best in the short history of wrestling as a major sport at Ohio Wesleyan. The three teams that finished ahead of the Bishops in the Ohio Conference were all defeated during the season in dual matches with the rugged Ohio Wesleyan grapplers. Because of the team's fine balance and depth they had the outstanding dual-meet record in the Conference. In the championships, however, balance is not as essential as great strength in two or three individual weight divisions. John Squires in the 177 and Dave Yoder in the 130 pound classes were both conference champions. Squires with an 8-1-1 record was elected Captain and Dave Yoder with an 8-1-2 record was selected as the most valuable performer. Norm Zigrossi was honored by his teammates as the most improved member of the squad.

This year's tankers, rated by Coach Dick Gordin as the strongest he has coached in his four years here, finished the season with a 6-5 dual-meet record, and placed third in the Ohio Conference Swimming and Diving Championships.

The season was highlighted by a host of broken records. Gordin's freestylers Ed Lash, Bob Warren, Larry Lays and Barry Poulson with a 3:51.7 clocking in the 400-yard freestyle topped the existing mark by 2.2 seconds. Gerry Gherlein, Dave Rouse, Curt Ormond, and Poulson combined to clip 8.2 seconds off the old medley relay mark set in 1957. Ormond, who flirted with the breast-stroke record all season, finally established a new record of 2:48.3. Barry Poulson, by his outstanding feats all year and in the Ohio Conference meet, was the outstanding performer in the Conference. His 23.7 in the 50-yard freestyle clipped .2 of a second off the previous Conference mark. Poulson also won the diving and picked up a second in the 100-yard freestyle.

1957 SPRING SPORTS

Tennis, track and baseball do not draw large crowds of spectators as do football and basketball, but the value of these sports to the athletic program is not in proportion to the number of spectators which they attract. The successful spring season experienced by the Bishop teams was made possible by the high competitive spirit of the athletes participating. The OWU teams emerged the possessors of one championship, two second places, and one third place in Ohio Conference contests.

Hinton, Jones Add To Tennis Laurels

Coached by Glenn Fraser, the 1957 Ohio Wesleyan tennis team closed a prosperous season with a 9-2 record. The OWU netmen started the season by defeating Otterbein 7-2, Lockbourne Air Force Base 8-1, Marshall 9-0, and Kenyon 8-1, before they suffered their first defeat at the hands of Ohio State, 5-4. After this loss, the Bishops continued their winning ways by beating Capital 9-0, Otterbein 8-0 and Wittenberg 7-2. The squad ran into its second snag when it was defeated by Oberlin 6-3. Then the Bishops went on to beat Wooster 9-0 and Wittenberg 8-1. The last match against Denison was called off because of rain.

The Bishops placed second behind Denison in the Ohio Conference tournament. The number two doubles team of Doug Hinton and Don Jones fought to a victory in the tournament. Dick Fryman, OWU's captain and number one man, was defeated in the quarter finals, and Rob Rowbotham was beaten in the finals. They were the only Bishop netmen to qualify in the singles tournament.

Bishop Cindermen Break Records; Take OC Title

The records posted by the 1957 Ohio Wesleyan track team give the University adequate reason to be proud of its track squad. Led by Coach Sterling Geesman and Assistant Coach Walt Jewsbury, the Bishops broke several records and finished the 1957 season by winning the Ohio Conference championship. The Bishops topped 10 other colleges in the Conference and beat second place Oberlin by 14 3/10 points.

Paced by sophomore Bob Davis and junior John Gutknecht, the OWU track squad won four conference meets while dropping a close one to Denison, 55-54. The cindermen later beat the Denison squad in the Ohio Conference meet, 54-23. The Bishops' schedule included meets against the University of Illinois, Ohio State University, University of Cincinnati and Ohio University, all of which are considered to have strong track teams.

In the Penn Relays, the biggest track meet in the country, the OWU mile relay teams, composed of Dave Ross, Gary Glenwright, Bob Groshok and Bob Davis, won in their division by defeating 11 eastern colleges, with a time of 3:25.

Davis, undefeated in the 440-yard dash, tied the Ohio Wesleyan record of 49.5 against Ohio University, and against Illinois Davis set a record of 49.3. In the Ohio Conference meet he ran this event in 48.9 and in a meet against Ohio State and Kent State ran the fastest 440-yard dash in Ohio with the time of 48.5, which is not only an Ohio Wesleyan record, but a Selby Field record.

The Conference meet saw many outstanding performances by OWU trackmen. Dick DeHaven, Brad Boen, John Guy and Davis set new Ohio Conference and OWU records in the 880-yard relay with a time of 1:29.4. Also, Fred Fulmer, Ross, Glenwright and Davis finished first and set a new Ohio Wesleyan record in the one-mile relay with a time of 3:24.2. Gutknecht finished first in the two-mile run after taking a close second in the one-mile. His time in the mile was 4:26.6, the best of his career.

Baseball Team Increases Home Victory String

Winning all its home games in the spring of 1957, the Ohio Wesleyan baseball team increased the number of consecutive wins on its home field to 19. With Jim Hibbitts as captain, the Bishops placed second in the Ohio Conference behind first-place Wittenberg. Their record of ten wins and three losses was the best for a Bishop nine in seven years.

The pitching staff was led by junior Cliff Aikens with five wins and two losses and sophomore Jim Dickey, who had a five-and-one record. In 68 1/3 innings Aikens struck out 81 men, the most strike-outs accumulated by a Bishop pitcher in the last seven seasons.

Four men batted over .290 and freshman catcher John MacIlwaine captured the team batting crown with an average of .400. These men, however, did not monopolize the offensive power of the team. Andy Hull led the team in runs scored with 17 and also had eight stolen bases to his credit. Jack Baynum led the team in RBIs with 15, followed by Dick Rebillard with

Shannon Medalist Winner In Conference Contest

The 1957 season was very successful for the OWU golf team, for the squad won nine matches while its opponents defeated it five times. Coached by Dick Gordin, the Ohio Wesleyan team won five of these nine matches before suffering its first loss to Denison. The team then lost two successive matches to Wooster, beat Capital, lost to Akron and Heidelberg, and wound up the season by beating Oberlin and Wittenberg. OWU tied for third place with Denison in the Ohio Conference Tournament and placed sixth in the Ohio Intercollegiate tournament.

Ohio Wesleyan's number one golfer, Neal Shannon, was medalist in the Ohio Athletic Conference with a score of 154 for 36 holes. The highlight of the year, however, came in a meet on the Akron course. Playing outstanding golf, Shannon finished with a sizzling 69, which set a new Ohio Wesleyan competitive scoring record.

Lacrosse Aims For Varsity Status With Two Victories

Lacrosse is a descendant of an old Indian game "bagataway," which combines the skills of football, basketball, hockey and soccer. The sport was introduced on Ohio Wesleyan's campus two years ago but was not officially recognized as a varsity sport until January, 1958.

The 1957 lacrosse team showed marked improvement as the season progressed and ended the year with a 2-7 record. Both of its victories were over Akron, another second-year team, with scores of 7-1 and 11-4.

The offense was led by Ron Levinsohn, Terry Taylor and Art Johansen. Thorpe Mitchell, a freshman, led the defense with a total of 95 saves. Two other freshmen, Ray Coldiron and John Cain, were members of the first-string All-Ohio lacrosse team. All of these men will return in 1958 and thus provide a strong backbone for a constantly improving team.

Much credit should go to the four seniors, Jack Cummings, Frank Wershing, Tom Doty and Jack Lister, who helped the team get its start with hopes of recognition as a varsity sport.

Sailing Club Places Sixth In Sugar Bowl Regatta

Sailing became a varsity sport at Ohio Wesleyan after the team's fine performance in the Angsten Trophy Regatta in 1951. During the fall of 1957, the team competed in six regattas as well as in the women's regatta which was won by OWU for the third straight year.

In the Nevin's Trophy Regatta held at Kingsport, N.Y., the team placed fifth out of eleven entries behind Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Annapolis Naval Academy, The Merchant Marine Academy and the Coast Guard Academy. The Wesleyan sailors came in sixth in the Sugar Bowl Invitational Regatta held in New Orleans, La.

A great deal of credit for the club's fine record should go to Norbert Cygan, faculty adviser, and the club officers, Judy Hancock, president, John deHoll, vice president, Mike Phillips, treasurer, and Peg Feld, secretary.

Women's Athletics Develop Intercollegiate Teams

Women's athletics provide a wide opportunity for all women who want to take part in organized sports for pure enjoyment. Both intramural and intercollegiate teams are organized through WRA and are supported by the coaching of Profs. Harriet Stewart, Lou Wengenroth and Helen Masson.

In the 1956-57 season the intramural trophy was presented to Alpha Gamma Delta. Medals were given to Sally Wilkinson, Nancy Tozer and Jan McKelvey for their outstanding participation.

Several very good teams have developed for intercollegiate competition. The tennis doubles team went to the College Tennis Tournament at Oberlin and advanced to the semi-finals. Marcia Rand won all of her golf matches and therefore, participated in the National Intercollegiate Golf Tournament during the summer of 1957. In the tournament Marcia reached the quarter finals. Perhaps the most outstanding record was established by the hockey team which had its third straight undefeated year.

IM Program Provides Competitive Recreation

For many years the men's intramural program at Ohio Wesleyan has provided an outlet for the athletic ability of any man who is not participating in a varsity sport during that particular semester. This program is set up by Coach Les Michael and the Intramural Council of the Interfraternity Council. A great majority of the male students take part in intramurals.

Affording the coeds of Ohio Weslevan an opportunity to participate in intramural, intercollegiate athletics and other recreational activities is the function of the Women's Recreation Association. This year the Association was directed by Nancy Tozer, president. Some of the sports sponsored by this organization are tennis, basketball, field hockey, swimming, bowling, volleyball, dance and badminton.

Besides organizing women's athletics, WRA is co-sponsor with Circle K, of the annual "freshman mixer."

The climax of the group's busy year comes at its banquet, where awards are given to all the women who have been outstanding in some particular sport during the year.

W Clan Seeks To Foster OWU Athletic Program

W Clan, an organization composed of men who have received a varsity letter at Ohio Wesleyan, is engaged in various campus activities. The members help with the Campus Chest drives and work with one of the Delaware service clubs on a civic project. Since no dues are collected, the organization must raise money in other ways, so during the basketball season, W Clan members sell programs and operate the concession stand at games.

The Clan, headed by President Jon Mallard, meets once a month and frequently has an outstanding figure from the world of sports as its guest speaker.

The primary objective of W Clan is to foster the athletic program at Ohio Wesleyan in every way possible. Methods of reaching this goal include encouraging more spectator support of athletic events and inducing top-notch athletes from high schools throughout the country to enroll at Ohio Wesleyan.

Orchesis Has Gifford, Dance Symposium

Orchesis, the modern dance group under the guidance of Prof. Mary Titus, faculty adviser, meets weekly to study dance techniques and work on original dances. This year a dance symposium featuring a concert and master lesson by the Joseph Gifford Dance Theater of New York City was held May 2 and 3. More than 100 students from other Ohio colleges accepted invitations to the symposium where they presented original compositions and were given professional advice from Mr. Gifford. Lisa Plavcan is president of Orchesis.

The Women's Physical Education Club is composed of approximately 30 women headed by President Patricia Benjamin. The club's purpose is to promote fellowship among women interested in the field of physical education, recreation and physical therapy. This group also acts as a service club in organizing sport clinics and playdays for the county high schools to help high school students become more proficient in various sports.

Dolphins Water Show On Monnett Weekend

Dolphins and Dolphinettes are two OWU organizations designed for women interested in synchronized swimming. Including about 35 students, the groups meet every Tuesday in Pfeiffer Natatorium to create and practice swimming routines. A highlight of the year is the annual water show given as part of the Monnett Weekend festivities. Nancy Bourns was president of Dolphins this year.

Fred VanArsdel, as Bill Bigelow, serenades Kim Kuemmerling, as Julie.

Kuemmerling, Van Arsdel Have Leads In "Carousel"

This year's Senior Show was the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "Carousel." Kim Kuemmerling as Julie Jordan and Fred Van Arsdel as Billy Bigelow filled the leading roles with Daphne Winder appearing as Carrie Pepperidge, Charles Root as Mr. Snow, Jean Shultz as Nettie Fowler, Hal Handerson as Jigger and Sylvia Sanders as Mrs. Mullin.

The show, which was completely supervised by students, with Prof. Gerald Kroeger serving as faculty adviser, was considered highly successful in all respects. Adding to the near-professional performances were the colorful and authentic 19th Century New England settings and costumes.

Bob Stevens was producer, Bill Giffin served as director, Bill Guth as technical director, Fraser Burnworth as musical director and Lisa Plavcan as choreographer.

'Glass Menagerie' Given For Homecoming Audience

"The Glass Menagerie," considered by many to be Tennessee Williams' best play, was presented by the Wesleyan Players during Homecoming weekend at Willis High School. Associate Professor of Speech Donald C. Eyssen directed the drama which was a demanding one for the student actors.

Ann Fausnaugh was cast as Amanda, the mother who lives in a sentimental world of her own creation. Marya Treadon played her daughter, Laura, crippled and withdrawn from reality, living in a world of makebelieve. Charles King, as Tom, Laura's older brother, is also narrator of the play, and Bud Blanton was seen as Jim O'Conner, the gentleman caller.

The mood and symbolism used throughout the play are climaxed when the glass unicorn in Laura's glass menagerie falls to the floor and is smashed, thereby shattering the illusions which are such an important part of her life.

Amanda upsets Laura in the presence of a suitor at the dinner table. Tom, her brother, tries to comfort her.

The housekeeper testifies during a session of the trial.

Christie Mystery 'Witness' Presented At Quons-Hut

"Witness for the Prosecution," the Wesleyan Players' second production of the season, was the suspenseful story of an accused murderer, who tries, through a brilliant criminal lawyer, to prove his innocence. This drama by Agatha Christie was staged at the Quons-Hut Theatre and starred Joe Woods, Sue Carey, Bud Blanton, and Bob Moffett.

Coward's 'Hay Fever' Brings London To Ohio

During the second semester the Wesleyan Players presented Noel Coward's 3-act comedy, "Hay Fever." The action of the play takes place in a country home outside of London. The plot revolves around the various situations which arise when each of the four members of the Bliss family invites a house guest for the weekend without informing the others. The play was under the direction of Gerald Kroeger and ran for four nights at the Quons-Hut Theater.

Richard talks out difficulties with Jackie Coryton, the rather nervous city girl.

Clara, the maid played by Karen Draut, listens to Cheryl Smith acting the part of Sorel Bliss.

Frosh Present 'Showoff'; Directed By Fausnaugh

Each year freshmen have the opportunity to begin their acting careers at Ohio Wesleyan by taking part in a production which is cast entirely with freshman students. This year, the play "The Showoff," by George Kelley, was presented at the Quons-Hut Theater.

Ann Fausnaugh, senior speech major, directed the play as her special project. Cast in the part of Mrs. Fisher was Marty Hayes, and Jerry Allen played her husband, Mr. Fisher. Dick Claugue was Aubrey Piper, the showoff. Carolyn MacFarland was seen as Clara, his wife, and Kay Knowlton played Aimee, the younger daughter. Others in the cast were Phil Taylor as Joe, Bob Maxwell as Frank Hyland, Bill Zahler as Mr. Gill, and Dave Dayton as Mr. Rogers.

The play concerns a middle-class American family whose life is complicated by a showoff son-in-law, and its purpose, according to the author, is to present a "transcript of life."

Aubrey Piper (Dick Clague) and his wife Clara (Carolyn MacFarland) discuss marriage problems.

Backstage, actors for "The Show-off" put on makeup in preparation for the play.

Anna Leonowens, played by Nancy Schmidt, explains a map to her class.

Anna and her son prepare to land in Siam.

Schmidt, Warner Star In 'King And I' Musical

For the 1957 Monnett Weekend show the Music Department performed Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The King and I." The musical, based on the book "Anna and the King of Siam," is about a British woman, Anna Leonowens, who leaves her home and the Western world to become a teacher for the many children of the King of Siam. The part of Anna was played by Nancy Schmidt and Rod Warner portrayed the King.

The show was performed for three full audiences in the Willis High School Auditorium. Prof. Charles Thompson served as musical director, Prof. Gordon Almstead as stage director, and Senior Larry Ross as technical director. Along with professional sets and staging of the "playlet," all who helped to produce the show sacrificed a great deal of time to make the performance a success.

The ball to honor the English visitors is announced.

Wesleyan Players

Wesleyan Players, an all campus theater organization, was founded in 1912 as the Histrionic Club. In the 1920s the name Wesleyan Players was adopted, along with the present point system for eligibility based on acting and crew work. With an active membership of over 50 students, Wesleyan Players sponsors various functions for its members, as well as presenting several plays during the year.

Theta Alpha Phi

Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatics honorary, founded at Ohio Wesleyan in 1920, displayed the University's early leadership in the field of dramatics, since this was the first chapter in Ohio.

This year the honorary, under the leadership of President Paul Kimmel, sponsored four major productions, "The Glass Menagerie," "Witness for the Prosecution," "Hay Fever" and "Hamlet". Ellis Rabb's appearance as Hamlet, was the highlight of the season.

MUSIC

Music is the most abstract of the arts. By means of a tonal medium, the composer and the performer express and communicate feelings. Musicians from Bach to Stravinsky have worked and studied in order to more adequately express themselves and their times through the medium of music. As Ohio Wesleyan musicians and music groups express the traditional and experiment with the modern, they enrich the University's life with the beauty of music.

A Cappella Choir Sings In Constitution Hall

The A Cappella Choir, directed by Prof. Rexford Keller, is a 90-member mixed ensemble representing the best of Ohio Wesleyan's vocal talent. One of the highlights of the Choir's season is the traditional spring vacation tour which, this year, took them through Southern Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Washington, D.C. The climax of the trip came on Easter Sunday when the Choir sang in the famous Constitution Hall in Washington.

Another outstanding event of the year was the presentation of Arthur Honegger's oratorio, "King David," in collaboration with the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs. Actor Basil Rathbone narrated this powerful work, which was given on Monnett Weekend.

A group of eight choir members makes up the Madrigal Singers, which add depth and versatility to the organization. The Choir's other performances include the Christmas concert and appearances in convocational services and chapel programs.

Prol. Rexlord Keller discusses plans for "King David" with Jane McCabe.

Men's Glee Club Visits Three Major Ohio Cities

The Ohio Wesleyan Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Prof. Gordon Almstead, enjoyed one of the most active seasons in recent years. The Glee Club, consisting of 50 voices, offers opportunities for men to blend their voices in singing sacred, secular and close harmony music.

Between semesters, the Glee Club presented 12 concerts throughout the Cleveland area. An abbreviated tour was made to Dayton and Toledo during spring vacation. The Glee Club made appearances in Chapel throughout the year, including a special concert for the student body. In addition to this, they presented concerts at several local high schools and churches, and sponsored a MUB dance.

The Glee Club also includes seven female singers, known as the Glee-ettes. Sue Tucker served as accompanist for the group as well as singing with Glee-ettes Linda Cunningham, Janet Emerson, Betsy Gerard, Nancy Price, Diane Waechter and Alice Whitener. A quartet composed of Red Shearer, Bill Fox, Ralph Day and Bill Nelson, also provided special music.

Officers for the year were Bill Fox, president; Merritt Rudolph, secretary; Chuck Landis, treasurer; Bryce Collier, tour manager, and Ralph Day, library manager.

THE WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB. Row 1: Jo Hlavin, Kathy Thompson, Judy Stoutter, Lorrie Soderberg, Nancy Clipson, Carol Goodspeed, Eunice Campbell, Jan Tillotson, Alice Bailey, Gail Rogers, Liz Gilchrist, Faye Pinchbeck, Terry Simone, Mary Spencer; Row 2: Cindy Shetter, Adelaide Davis, Jane Emmons, Marilyn Fouse, Jo Hamilton, Lynn Whipple, Margie Schoots, Nat Leech, Kathy Kappel, Debbie Skinner, Myebeth Pickford, Carol Rees; Row 3: Pat Wiles, Sue Cherry, Mary Moomaw, Patt Ross, Sue Jett, Linda Schwab, Gretchen Blumensteil, Betsy Sanderson, Judy Bridge; Row 4: Prof. Bowlus, Jane Polley, Pat

The Women's Glee Club, directed by Prof. Robert Bowlus, makes a large contribution to the cultural environment of Ohio Wesleyan with its arrangements of both sacred and secular music. The active participation of this group in chapel services adds greatly to the effectiveness and devotional atmosphere of these assemblies. The Women's Glee Club provides unusual opportunity for those interested in musical presentations, and rewards the hard work of those who take part with real and lasting satisfaction.

A unique part of the Glee Club's program this year will be a summer trip to Europe which will be highlighted by a performance in the American Pavilion at the World's Fair in Brussels on United States Day, July 4. The itinerary will include five different countries and stops at the principal cities of Brussels, London, Zurich, Luxembourg, and Paris. The trip will take approximately one month, with the Glee Club leaving soon after Commencement.

Other performances during the year included a presentation of Pergolesi's "Stabat Mater" on March 16 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Delaware, and a weekend tour to Warren, Ohio, April 13. Glee Club officers were Faye Pinchbeck, president; Terry Simone, vice-president, and Pat Cochran, treasurer.

Symphony Formal Concert Centered On Beethoven

For many years the Ohio Wesleyan Symphony Orchestra has served as an outlet for those with instrumental musical talent. The purpose of the orchestra has always been to perform the standard orchestral literature and to serve as an accompaniment for the larger musical productions put on by the University. This orchestral group is composed of approximately 40 people, including faculty members and their wives, townspeople, and students. Prof. Charles Thompson, of the Music Department, directed the orchestra this year, completing his fourth year in that position.

This year the orchestra gave one formal concert, assisted in a major production, and participated in the commencement exercises. The formal concert was given on February 16th and consisted of several of the masterworks of Beethoven. During Monnett Weekend the Symphony Orchestra, with the A Cappella Choir and the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, performed "King David" by Honegger.

Concert Band Makes Guest Appearances

The Ohio Wesleyan Concert Band afforded the University another year of service in the musical field by providing the student body with the opportunity of performing or listening to some of the best concert band compositions. The 48 band members worked hard throughout the year in order to prepare themselves for their several concerts and Chapel appearances. Prof. Charles Thompson again served as the director of this instrumental group and was assisted in his work by Prof. Willis Olson, the associate director.

During the past year the Ohio Wesleyan Concert Band presented one formal concert and made two out-of-town appearances, one during the first semester in Morral, Ohio, and one in Upper Sandusky, Ohio, during the second semester. The band also put on several informal outdoor concerts in the area between the residence halls on the Monnett campus. On the Saturday night of commencement weekend, the group performed its traditional role as part of the "Festival of Lanterns."

The Marching Band forms the shape of a lamp, symbolic of the lamp of knowledge, during the half-time ceremonies of the Homecoming game.

Half-time Shows Feature 'Bop Riding Hood,' UN

The Marching Band, under the direction of Field Director Dave Forry and the guidance of Prof. Willis Olson, performed during half-time ceremonies for four OWU football games this fall, including an away game at Oberlin.

Some of the outstanding performances of the season included the Band's version of "Little Bop Riding Hood," and the homecoming show, which was a tribute to the United Nations and featured a series of John Philip Sousa marches. These presentations were worked out in detail by Mr. Olson.

Dave Forry supervised the 65-piece band, while Joan Randall and Judd McLevey assisted. The Majorettes, led by Drum Major Bob Gin, added color and showmanship to the Band performances.

A new band honorary, Kappa Kappa Psi, was founded this year to recognize Band members' work and to promote better relations with other bands.

The majorettes lead the band onto the field.

Kappa Kappa Psi Starts Ohio Wesleyan Chapter

The Ohio Wesleyan Band joined with other college bands of the nation when Gamma Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, the National Band Honorary for college bandsmen, was established May 19, 1957. The purpose of this organization is to bring together band members in comradeship and service and to promote friendliness toward visiting bands. Officers for this year were Bob Mohr, president, Dave Forry, vice-president, Judd McLevey, secretary, and Hugh Bicksler, treasurer.

Phi Mu Alpha Organizes Songfest, Special Events

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is a national professional music fraternity which functions on the Ohio Wesleyan campus as a men's music honorary. Each year the Omega chapter at OWU sponsors the fraternity songfest as well as presenting special programs designed to promote the students' interest in music. This year's officers were Bill Fox, president; Chuck King, vice president; William Giffin and Jack Hammitt, secretaries, and Ed Whipps, treasurer.

Mu Phi Sponsors Song Fest, Aids Settlement

Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority for women in the professional field, has as its purpose the promotion of musicianship and scholarship, and the advancement of music throughout America.

The Ohio Wesleyan chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, Mu Phi, was founded in 1923. To carry out its purpose, the Mu Phi chapter requires its members to have a major in music and a B average for the previous semester.

At OWU, Mu Phi Epsilon is known chiefly for sponsoring the Sorority Song Fest each year. Also included in its program are two musical programs, which enable members to gain experience by performing before audiences. Other projects of this group are the collection of used music and instruments to be sent to Silliman University in the Philippines, and the support of the Mu Phi Epsilon School of Music at Gads Hill Settlement in Chicago.

Debate Squad Enters Capitol Hill Tourney

The year 1957-58 proved to be an active year for the Ohio Wesleyan forensic program directed by Prof. Edward R. Robinson. In individual speaking events, two students took state championships. The debate squad, consisting of 36 men and women, participated in 75 debates in addition to symposia, legislative assemblies, and appearances before public and civic organizations.

Highlights of the debating season included participation in the Capitol Hill Tournament in Washington, D. C., and the Delta Sigma Rho Congress in East Lansing, Michigan.

The topic which was debated by all teams this year was, "Resolved: that the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment be illegal."

A feeling of excitement runs through the control room during the airing of a live show at WSLN.

WSLN Features News, Sports, Musical Shows

Ohio Wesleyan's radio voice, FM Station WSLN, is owned and operated by the University. A fully equipped station, it is a workshop for students interested in producing, directing or participating in radio programs during the 47-hour weekly broadcasting schedule. Its programs include sports, news, music and variety shows.

Station manager Bob Hunt, in conjunction with Marilyn Brock, administrative director; Mike Dennis, technical director; and Manning Haynes, program director, organized the year's activities.

Alpha Epsilon Rho, national radio and television honorary, serves as the controlling body of WSLN. Associated with WSLN are the Tower Players, a local honorary.

PUBLICATIONS

Creativity, inspiration, hard work and patience are requirements for those who work in publications. From staff member to editor, contributions of time and talent are made in order to prepare a complete and graphic record of Ohio Wesleyan, its daily activities, achievements and advances. Publications not only give valuable and practical experience to students, but also serve as important records of University life.

The Board sets the overall policies of both publications and appoints the students to fill their top positions.

Pi Delta Epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon, the national journalism honorary, recognizes outstanding service in the field of publications, either on the Transcript, the Owl, or the Le Bijou. At the conclusion of each year Pi Delt sponsors a Publications Banquet. Bob Strasburg headed Pi Delt during 1956-57.

The Ohio Wesleyan Transcript, weekly newspaper prepared by an all-student staff, is the winner of several All-American and First Class ratings and last year was ranked by the Ohio College Newspaper Association as the best paper of its size in Ohio.

The duties of editorship were divided this year between Bob Henretty and Lowell Fleischer after Henretty resigned because of ill health. Jack Batty served as managing editor and Bob Price as business manager.

Starting with assignments, reporters branch out into all parts of the campus to gather news. Each departmental editor collects and edits the assignments after which the managing editor, editor, departmental editors and advertising manager combine their efforts to lay out the paper, write the headlines and send the paper to press.

Although Ohio Wesleyan had a yearbook as early as 1868, it wasn't until 1876 that the name Le Bijou, or the jewel, was originated. Since that time the book has changed from a fraternity souvenir to a literary book to the Le Bijou of recent years which attempts to give a complete graphic-story account of the year's activities. Each year the book has a theme as the editors and staffs try to concentrate their efforts in telling why Ohio Wesleyan is different from other colleges and universities. This year the theme is "Individuals in an Experimental Society." In 1893, Le Bijou was recognized as the finest annual published in the United States. In 1956, Le Bijou was honored with an "All-American" rating by the Associated Collegiate Press and last year was named "First Class".

OWL Utilizes Students' Art And Writing Abilities

The OWL, Ohio Wesleyan Literary Magazine, appears on the Ohio Wesleyan campus four times a year; presenting a variety of essays, short stories, poetry and art work. Edited and administered by students, the publication serves as an outlet for the literary and artistic creations of the students. It is the hope of the OWL staff that the magazine can provide stimulation for creative work in art and writing.

This year the OWL was edited by Lisa Plavcan. Choosing material to be published from the work submitted by students was the job of the literary board which was under the direction of Judy Franzen. The art work was developed primarily in art classes, and was chosen and laid out by the art staff, headed by Chuck Polandik. Other staff members who contributed to the production of this year's Owl were: Dave Dimmers, advertising manager; Jon Mallard, circulation manager; Marlene Oeschger, office manager; Ron Rathburn, business manager, and Aimee Johnson, publicity manager.

Students Govern Selves Through Council, Forum

The Student Government has the important function on Ohio Wesleyan's campus of acting as the student legislative body. The Student Council serves as both the legislative and executive bodies of Student Government. As a result of the elections last March, this year's Student Council officers are Jim McHolland, president; Laura Pierce, vice-president; Joy Miller, secretary; Dick Bump, treasurer, and Phil Meek, representative-at-large. By meeting regularly and by taking many of its problems to the students, the Council has tried to coordinate Student Government activity and stimulate interest in its purposes.

The policy-making body of Student Government is the Student Forum. At each meeting 30 students, representing the different interest groups on campus, discuss problems and initiate policies.

Publicity Committee members, Marlene Kiupel, Bob Ator and Carol Neuleldt, work to publicize a campus event.

The Chapel Committee, headed by Don Saliers, left, discusses future chapel programs.

The implementing bodies of Student Government are its eleven committees that carry out student policies. Among them are the Chapel Committee which works to present interesting and well-rounded chapel programs. The Book Store supplies students with used books at the beginning and end of each semester. Planning all-campus dances, such as Homecoming and the Registration Dance, is one of the functions of the Social Committee.

Student Courts Judge Campus Rule Infractions

Ohio Wesleyan students are a self-governing body having their own judicial system in addition to Student Government. This year, for the first time, the campus had a Men's Court which was established to parallel the Association of Women Students' Judicial Board. The Men's Court tries all cases having to do with individual problems and any situations that may arise between men and the University. This new court replaces the former Campus Court, which was composed of both men and women but which, in reality, tried only men's cases. The AWS Judicial Board settles cases involving women who violate any AWS or University rules.

For cases involving both men and women a special court convenes. This special ad hoc court has men and women presiding.

On matters such as violations of rushing or pledging rules, the Interfraternity Council Court meets and hears the case. This court has been very strong in upholding the Interfraternity rules. The Panhellenic Council makes decisions on similar violations among the sororities.

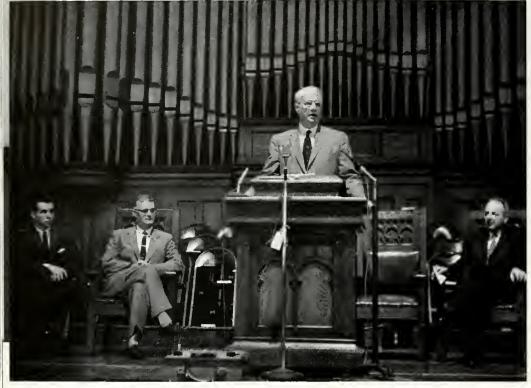

Above the Ohio Wesleyan Student Judicial System is the Board of Trustees, which meets twice a year and makes the final decision on any appealed case.

Special Interest Groups

Senator John Bricker addresses chapel as guest of the Young Republican Club.

Young GOP's Meet Vice President Nixon

With Rusty Pipe as president, the Young Republicans had a very eventful year. The club was most active in the fall. A chapel program sponsored by the future GOPs featured Senator John Bricker of Ohio as the main speaker. The hospitality shown to Senator Bricker was rewarded with an invitation to visit the Governor's Mansion and the State House of Representatives. Several members of the club were invited to be part of the committee which welcomed Vice President Richard M. Nixon to Ohio. In the fall the Ohio Wesleyan Young Republican Club received an award for being the best in the state

Young Democrats discussing policy are Cathy Stoycheff, Peter D. Stoycheff, Peter A. Stoycheff, Dick Dawson and Dave Tarantul.

Young Democrats Visit Ohio Court

The Young Democrats, headed by Dave Tarantul, began the year with a successful membership drive and in October they presented U.S. Representative Ed Edmondson of Oklahoma as the speaker for the Fall Democratic Chapel. Two members attended the Young Democrats' National Convention in Reno, Nevada, and, at the beginning of second semester, the club sponsored a trip to observe a session of the Ohio Supreme Court. By working with both the state and local parties and with the OWU Institute of Practical Politics, the group gained valuable experience in the workings of American politics.

As one of their many service projects, members of Circle K go to the Girl's Industrial School once a month to put on dances. Each of the members escorts an individual girl to and from the dance.

Circle K Serves Both Campus And Community

Circle K is an organization of 45 men devoted to serving the college and the community.

Ohio Wesleyan's Circle K Club, the first in Ohio, was started in 1951 under the direction and inspiration of Coach George Gauthier. Since its beginning seven years ago with 18 interested men, it has accepted and performed many service projects in all areas of campus and community life.

The club works in cooperation with its affiliate, the Delaware Kiwanis Club.

YMCA Orients Men Through Freshman Camp

The Young Men's Christian Association began its activities even before classes got under way this fall by sponsoring Freshman Camp for the incoming male students. Held the week before the freshmen arrive on campus, this experience is used, in part, to help the new students to adjust to campus life.

The beginning of the first semester was spent evaluating the organization by attempting to decide what the purpose, function and structure of a campus YMCA should be. As a result of this evaluation, four program areas were set up and executive officers were elected as follows: Jerry Dickey, president; Al Ritter, vice-president; John Turner, secretary, and Frank Ollendorff, treasurer.

Programs for this year included several discussions concerning the aims of Ohio Wesleyan University, a trip to visit the Marion "Y", Christmas caroling with the YWCA, helping with parties at the Delaware Children's Home and several intercollegiate conferences.

Membership in the YMCA is open to any man who believes in the ideals and principles of the organization and who wants to take part in the various phases of its program.

Chuck Ream and Ed Geiger served as directors of Freshman Camp.

Recreation such as basketball marked Freshman Camp activities.

YWCA Works Through Project, Study Groups

The student YWCA, of which the Ohio Wesleyan organization is a member, declares as its purpose: "We unite in the desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. We determine to make this life possible for all people. In this task we seek to know Jesus and to follow Him."

To work toward fulfilling this purpose, the YWCA functions as a unit in all-association meetings and in smaller committee groups. The project committees perform special services through social agencies and the weekly discussion groups delve into problems of student concern.

This year, the YWCA welcomed a new executive director, Miss Marianna De Spain, who interrupted her studies at Union Theological Seminary in New York City to work with the Ohio Wesleyan organization.

The officers of the 1957-58 association were Betty Crider, president; Jennie Dickson, vice president; June Kiger, secretary, and Diane Mulvihill, treasurer.

Red Cross Sets Up Emergency Units

The Ohio Wesleyan Unit of the American Red Cross was under the guidance of the Delaware Red Cross directors. Miss Abigail Semans and Miss Cheta Michaelson, for the past year. An average of 300 students participated weekly in programs at the Girls Industrial School, Columbus State School, and the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital. The 1957 Delaware Fall Blood Drive was successful largely because of the participation of the student body and the hard work of the student Red Cross Unit. This was the ninth consecutive year that Delaware has exceeded its blood quota. This year one innovation was a program of emergency volunteers for epidemics. The officers for the 1957-58 year were Jo Toepfer and Doug Paton, co-chairmen, Carol Rusch, secretary, and Bob Williams, treasurer.

ISA Has Exchange Of Ideas And Ideals

The International Student Association is an organization of foreign and American students which has the purpose of promoting better harmony and friendship among the various countries. By bringing students from many countries together, the group hopes to provide for a more meaningful understanding of each other, as well as providing for an exchange of ideals and experiences. Activities during the year included panel discussions, slide shows, and social events. Highlights of their program were the Embassy Ball, which is a campus event, and the annual Graduation Dinner, which honors the graduating foreign students. This year members represented over 15 countries of the world. Officers of the 1957-58 year were Millard Cann, president, Zahri Muntasser, vice-president, Betty Humm, secretary, and John Yannicos, treasurer.

Newly-Organized SCF Expresses Church United

A new development at OWU this year was the Student Christian Federation, which is a group of six independent denominational church fellowships. This federation met for supper each Sunday evening in the MUB and provided for separate programs following the meal.

The Federation includes the Baptist-Disciples Fellowship, the Canterbury Club of the Episcopal Church, the Lutheran Student Movement, the Methodist Student Movement, the United Student Fellowship of the United Church of Christ, and the Westminster Fellowship of the Presbyterian Churches.

The formation of this group was realized during the second semester. The future of the Federation depends on the response and support of the students. This expression of the church united, yet recognizing denominational heritages, is a forward step for the life of the student Christian movement and the whole church.

MSM Encourages Study As Christian Calling

The Methodist Student Movement at Ohio Wesleyan is one of over 500 on college and university campuses here and abroad. The Movement exists not only to produce more faithful Methodists, but to encourage students to pursue their studies as a Christian calling, knowing also that through their participation in the life of the University, they may most fully convey their faith in Jesus Christ to others. These students feel the need to find ways of living and working together as Christians, while being a part of the day-to-day life of the University. Committees such as worship, recreation and social action serve this purpose. Adviser to the MSM is Mr. William Van Valkenburgh of the Office of Religious Activities.

Senior Leaders, Scholars Tapped By Mortar Board

Women from four colleges, Swarthmore, Cornell, Ohio State, and the University of Michigan formed the women's senior honorary, Mortar Board, in 1918 on the three basic principles of service, scholarship, and leadership.

All of the members take a very active part in campus organizations, which constitutes their main area of service to the University. In addition, every year during Homecoming weekend in the fall they sell mums. The proceeds from this project are used to continue a scholarship fund for OWU women.

The Mortar Board scholarship fund is maintained through the sale of chrysanthemums at Fall Homecoming.

ODK Taps 12 Seniors, One Faculty Member

Omicron Delta Kappa fraternity, installed at Ohio Wesleyan in 1927, was founded on the principles of "high character, leadership, fellowship and consecration to democratic ideals." Twice a year ODK taps juniors and seniors for membership in recognition of their achievements in the areas of scholarship, journalism, radio, music, dramatics, athletics and organizational activities. The tapping is done in a regular chapel program. This year's president was Ron Marcy.

President and Mrs. Flemming pose with their children; Tom, Sue, Harry, Libby and Arthur.

Pres. Flemming Resigns; Accepts Cabinet Post

Early in May, President Arthur S. Flemming resigned his position at Ohio Wesleyan to become Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare on the cabinet of President Eisenhower.

President Flemming, who came to Ohio Wesleyan in 1948, is recognized as one of the outstanding liberal arts university presidents in the United States.

He was granted a leave of absence from OWU from 1953-57 to serve as Director of the Office of Defense Mobilization in Washington, D.C.

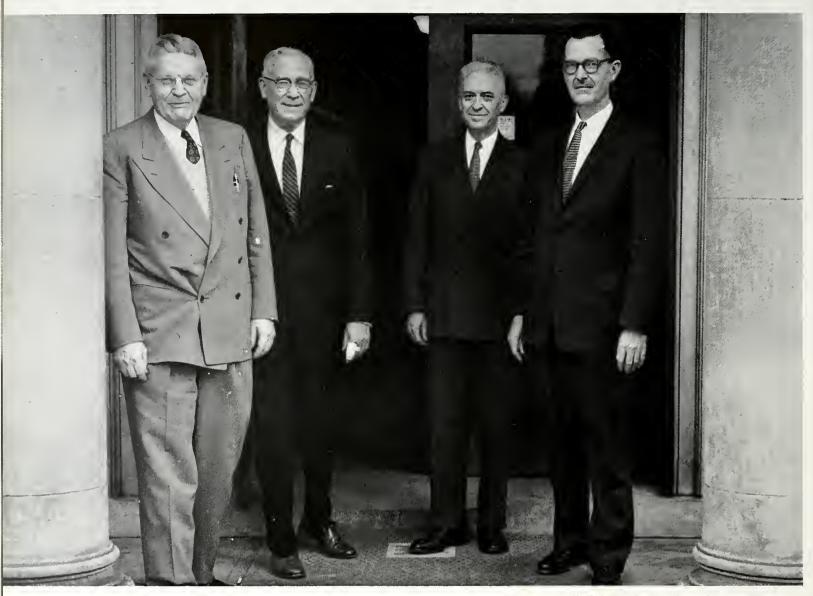

A 1927 graduate of Ohio Wesleyan, President Flemming was the first layman to become president of the University.

President Flemming leaves a White House meeting accompanied by Val Peterson and Charles E. Wilson.

Bob Hutton gets an early-morning greeting from President Flemming.

Leaving Slocum Library are OWU vice-presidents Donald Hornberger, Herman Shipps, C. E. Ficken and Acting Dean George Burns.

Donald J. Hornberger

Donald J. Hornberger, Vice President and Treasurer, is responsible for policy making and administration in the area of University finance. He works closely with such persons as the purchasing agent, the cashier, the director of buildings and grounds, the University controller and others in carrying out the business end of the University's operation.

Herman M. Shipps

Vice president and Director of University Relations Herman M. Shipps serves Ohio Wesleyan as the administrator in charge of admissions, placement, alumni activities, news and information service, alumni fund and finance promotion. Mr. Shipps is a former teacher and editor of the Ohio Wesleyan Magazine, alumni publication. He will retire in June after 37 years of service to Ohio Wesleyan.

Clarence E. Ficken

Vice President and Dean C. E. Ficken is concerned with all phases of the educational life of the University which includes such vital areas as curriculum building and the teaching staff. He also spends much time in student counseling. In March Dean Ficken returned to his office after serving during the first semester as Executive Secretary of Ohio Governor C. William O'Neill's Commission on Education Beyond the High School.

George W. Burns

Prof. George W. Burns, Chairman of the Botany Department, served as Acting Vice President and Dean of the College while Dean Ficken was on leave during the first semester. Prof. Burns returned to his duties as professor of botany in March, 1958.

Dean of Women

Miss Audrey M. Parker, Dean of Women, functions as a counselor, adviser to Association of Women Students, Panhellenic Council, Freshman Orientation Committee and as a friend of Ohio Wesleyan women. Recently returned from a year's study in Denmark, Miss Parker welcomes the opportunity to talk with students and is in close touch with residence hall counselors and sorority housemothers. Miss Parker also makes arrangements for employment for women students.

Dean Parker offers some suggestions to a student.

Dean of Men

Dean of Men William L. Zerman and Assistant Dean Ronald Stead have many and varied responsibilities from arranging for men's housing to acting as adviser for Student Government. Both are available for conferences and are prepared to counsel on vocational guidance, to answer questions about University life, or to talk over a personal problem. Counselors and advisers in residence halls assist the Deans.

Religious Activities

The founders of Ohio Wesleyan valued highly the role of religion in college life in helping to produce mature, responsible citizens. Present-day administrative plans call for a Director of Religious Activities to coordinate and guide the religious life of the University. Since 1950, Rev. Richard R. Gay has served in this position, this year with the help of assistants Marianna DeSpain, executive secretary of the YWCA, and William Van Valkenburgh. Rev. Gay and his staff spend much time in counseling activities, but also advise student religious organizations and act as a liason between churches or organizations seeking student pastors or the help of students to lead work in religious education.

University Controller

Mr. Robert Meyer became University Controller in 1957 after serving as a member of the Business Administration and Economics Department faculty for nine years. A Certified Public Accountant, Mr. Meyer is auditor of student accounts, scholarship officer, secretary to student aid and is instructor in a course in accounting.

Mr. Meyer goes over the computation manual with his secretary, Mrs. Helen McMillen.

Rev. Richard Gay and Bishop Werner discuss a caming Chapel program.

Registrar

As Associate Dean and Registrar of Ohio Wesleyan University, Allan C. Ingraham and his staff are concerned with the academic records of all students. Dean Ingraham's responsibilities range from scheduling classes to tabulating chapel cuts to counseling students. Since 1953 when he became registrar, he has worked to develop an improved system of registration and is constantly studying the existing operation. Dean Ingraham also serves as Chairman and as a teacher in the Education Department.

Dean Ingraham and his secretary, Miss Ruth Foster, explain a detail of the registration system to Grea Bara.

Assistant Treasurer

Although very few students come into direct contact with Mr. Donald B. Watkins, the activities of his office affect the life of every Ohio Wesleyan student. Assistant Treasurer Watkins lists among his duties those of Purchasing Agent, Assistant Business Manager, Director of Civil Defense and Secretary of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Watkins inspects the new Phillips Building.

Director of Development

Mr. William Mead, Director of Development, is coordinator of Finance Promotion activities for Ohio Wesleyan. Mr. Mead is on leave from Ketchum, Inc., fund raising counsel, and is general overseer of long and short range development programs for the University.

Mr. Mead and his secretary, Mrs. Eli Long, make plans for coming alumni meetings.

Campus Traffic Controller

Mr. Harland Roby fills the newly-created post of Campus Traffic Controller. His office is responsible for student driving permits, student patrolmen and faculty parking. One of his major concerns has been promoting safety in handling of automobiles, and he serves as adviser to the Student Safety Committee.

Mr. Roby is in charge of all student car permits.

Health Service

Ohio Wesleyan's Health Office, staffed with a full-time physician, Dr. Francis Logan, and a registered nurse, Mary Lynch, is equipped to take care of the routine illnesses of the students. The Student Hospital, with a staff of registered nurses, is available for treatment of ailments which require facilities beyond those of the Health Office.

Nurse Mary Lynch gives an apparently painless flu shot to Jim Dickey as Dr. Francis Logan looks on.

Placement

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Roland Boecklin, Ohio Wesleyan's Placement Office has a remarkable record of success in guiding graduates into the professional world. In 1956-57 over 2100 schools, industrial firms, social agencies and government offices listed 4800 job opportunities with the Placement Office, and the average senior man had approximately 30 on-campus interviews. In addition to serving as a liason between students and prospective employers, the Placement Office, free of charge, keeps college records, recommendations and other information on file.

Mrs. Boecklin explains a job opportunity to Senior Ted Fuge.

Alumni And Alumni Fund

Alumni Secretary James W. Bridge and his staff attempt to reach all graduates with news of the University and keep them up to date on campus plans and policies. Howard E. Strauch, as Alumni Fund Secretary, is overseer of the organized financial effort among alumni and friends of the University. Mrs. Glee H. Murray, former Fund secretary, is Assistant to the Director of University Relations, and assists both Alumni and Alumni Fund programs.

Mrs. Glee H. Murray, Assistant to the Director of University Relations, and Howard E. Strauch, Director of the Alumni Fund, review one of the University's recent publications.

News And Information

The News and Information Service aims to keep alumni and the general public aware of the activities taking place at Ohio Wesleyan. The NIS staff, which includes Director Mark Lipper, Publications Director Sally Robinson, Sports Publicist Ted Gathany and Secretary Carole Smart, is responsible for all University publications except the college catalog, and supplies newspapers, magazines and radio and television stations with University news.

Admissions

Many Ohio Wesleyan students first learned about the college through the Admissions Office. Through an extensive visitation program to high schools, Fred Pollock, Director of Admissions, James Bridge, Alumni Secretary, and Admissions Counselors Dale Bruce and Paul Hahn, stimulate interest in Ohio Wesleyan and interview prospective students. In addition to this work and the actual processing of applications, the staff greets visitors and personally shows them the campus.

Director of Admissions Fred Pollock (right) and Admissions Counselor Dale Bruce (center) talk with Alumni Secretary James W. Bridge, who works with the Admissions Oflice on special events such as parents' weekends.

LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

• Because it is believed that one of the important elements of a liberal arts education is familiarity with the ideas of the great writers of past and present and the application of these ideas to the situations and problems which man experiences in contemporary society, literature classes at Ohio Wesleyan deal with authors ranging from Homer to Hemingway.

Builders of Ohio Wesleyan's curriculum recognized as equally important a workable knowledge of the English language as well as training in foreign languages, making possible the comprehensive communication of the ideas of others and the intelligent formulation of original theses.

At OWU students of languages and literature engage in thoughtful consideration and discussion of both content and technique of literary works along with composition and language usage.

Languages Contribute To World Understanding

One answer to the troubles and tensions of the world might be found in better communication with people of foreign nations; and better communication means a more extensive knowledge of foreign languages. At Ohio Wesleyan the foreign language departments make an important contribution to education and better understanding among men.

Various techniques such as tape recording, singing of folk songs and short class trips are employed to make the class sessions more interesting. For junior modern language majors, the department offers the opportunity to spend a year at a university abroad as part of an exchange program. Departmental honors are granted to qualifying seniors in French, German and Spanish.

Freshman Holly Akre selects a book for her next report.

Ohio Wesleyan recognizes the dependency of all study on a knowledge and comprehension of the English language, and consequently, requires that one year of usage, composition and literature be included in the program of every student. Freshman English includes the well-known outside reading program which is conducted on a point system. The program allows freshmen to choose from a great number of selected books. One of the purposes of the outside reading program is to prepare the student for the Great Books course which is a University requirement.

Beginning next year, each student will be scored on English proficiency in all of his courses. Failure to rate satisfactorily in these scorings may result in extra work in remedial English until the student is able to pass the proficiency examination.

The English Department, headed by Prof. Benjamin Spencer, acts as sponsor of the OWL, Ohio Wesleyan Literary magazine, which encourages creative and scholarly writing.

Humanities, Classics Present Basic Ideas Of Man

The Classics, an integral part of the curriculum of Ohio Wesleyan since it was established in 1842, emphasizes the importance of understanding those philosophies and concepts that are basic to our early Western culture. Prof. Roland Boecklin is Chairman of the Classics Department.

The Great Books course, known as Humanities, was introduced at Ohio Wesleyan in 1941 as part of a nationwide movement in colleges and universities, and is now a University requirement.

Chairman of the Department, Prof. Alfred Ferguson, is on leave this year and Prof. Ruth Davies is Acting Chairman. Two coffee hours each semester give students an opportunity to discuss their reading informally with professors and other students.

Improved Communication Is Aim Of Speech Study

The School of Oratory, the predecessor of the Ohio Wesleyan Department of Speech, was founded in the early 1890s. The latter, which became a department of the University during the 1920s, has experienced a change and expansion.

A total of 30 courses are currently offered in six fields: public speaking, debate and oratory, oral interpretation, speech correction, theater and radio. In addition to these, a new basic course in voice science, including phonetics, was offered for the first time this year.

Co-curricular activities in debate, oratory, interpretation, theater and radio are supervised by a six-member staff headed by R. C. Hunter. A hope of the Speech Department for the not-too-distant-future is a communications building which would house all speech-related classwork and activities.

Program In Journalism Is Inter-Departmental

Because many professional editors and other employers in the field of journalism have indicated a preference for applicants who have a broad, liberal arts education, Ohio Wesleyan has incorporated into its curriculum what is known as an "inter-departmental" major in journalism.

Less than 15 per cent of the required program is made up of journalism courses, and those courses stress other than the vocational aspects. United States history, political science and English make up a large proportion of the journalism major's schedule.

Verne E. Edwards is Chairman of the Journalism Department which also includes Mark Lipper and Albert Stridsberg. Prof. Lipper, Director of the Ohio Wesleyan News and Information Service, teaches a class in public relations and Prof. Stridsberg, copy writer for the Howard Swink Advertising Agency in Marion, teaches the course in advertising.

Adaptation of liberal arts education to the special requirements of journalism is the department's main goal.

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

 "Through an examination of the concepts." in the major philosophical and religious traditions and especially of the impact and vitality of the Christian faith, the student shall be able to arrive at the scheme of values which not only is confident and rational, but also finds its ultimate issue in human conduct." This is the goal which Ohio Wesleyan University seeks to reach through its courses in philosophy and religion. The curriculum is designed to give insight into other religions and societies as well as beliefs of contemporary Christianity. Both the theoretical and the practical aspects of these concepts are included in the courses. The University requires that each student complete a survey course dealing with the basis of major philosophical views.

The department is concerned not only with preparing pre-theology majors, but also with providing foundations in philosophy and religion for all students.

Prof. Easton presides over a philosophy seminar in Memorial Union.

The Philosophy Department offers a study of the writings of great philosophers to stimulate the thinking, broaden the viewpoint and develop the understanding of Ohio Wesleyan students who learn that ancient philosophies can be vital to our present way of life. Philosophy challenges the student to examine ideas and the grounds on which they are based.

Religion Gives Insights Into World Of Values

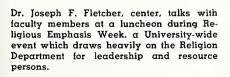

Charles King revises his religion seminar paper, a thesis which involves a great deal of work for religion majors.

At Ohio Wesleyan religion plays an important part in the curriculum. The students at the University represent different faiths and different denominations within the Protestant faith, so courses are offered to fit the needs and interests of all.

The beginning course in religion is a University requirement and advanced courses prepare pre-theology and religious education majors, as well as serving as electives for students in other fields. Courses cover four major areas: study of the Bible, study of the major religions of the world, study of contemporary intellectual movements and training for work in religious education.

Pre-theology and religious education majors provide Delaware and nearby churches with student ministers and organizational leadership.

SOCIAL STUDIES

• The realization that man is a social being has given impetus to study of groups and their effect on the members and the products of their efforts. Because man is a social animal, he has also become a political animal, devising systems of government to perform specific functions for him, to give him a certain amount of direction and to help him to exercise power.

Man lives in communities, joins fraternal and social clubs, belongs to unions, sends his children to school and church—in fact, man spends most of his time in association with other people. Sociologists have discovered that the process of social interaction and communication is an extremely complex phenomenon demanding careful study. Results of this study have demonstrated that people can measure group behavior, predict it to some extent, control it and guide it to maximum effectiveness.

The area of social studies is not confined completely to man's immediate group, however, for it involves the relationship between the individual and group and the larger cultural context. The study of social behavior envelopes every phase of man's life.

Prof. Russell Baylift serves as clerk of the Delaware City Council along with Edward Flahive (right), Ohio Wesleyan graduate, Mayor of Delaware.

Sociology Investigates Man's Social Behavior

The Department of Sociology maintains the theory that by means of practical experience and unrestricted inquiry, the student will gain a larger measure of understanding about man's social behavior.

Sociology is concerned with group behavior, the organization, structure and functions of social institutions, in addition to their processes, folkways and mores.

To stimulate interest and aid students in choosing a field of social work the department maintains a relationship with the Delaware Red Cross which enables students to participate in field work at the Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital and the Girls' Industrial School.

Moreover, the department strives to educate the student in the responsibilities of citizenship in local, national and international communities.

The Department of History stresses the importance of a student's work in attempting to gain a better view of the moral and ethical principles which the historian encounters.

The search for truth plus the desire to communicate knowledge can be shown by several books and magazine articles which have been written by members of the faculty and the student body. Because of the variety of required subjects, an interesting array of courses are taken by the history major. Courses in history stress the relationship of the past to the present, and through a study of history the student gains a better understanding of the problems of the world, which in our age, indeed, are many.

Prof. David Jennings conducts a class in one of the more than 20 history courses offered Ohio Wesleyan students.

Political Science Encourages Responsible Citizenship

Ohio Wesleyan University, recognizing the need for "clear thinking on political problems," and the necessity for developing a "sense of responsibility to engage in political activity in an intelligent manner," provides for its students a well-qualified faculty and a stimulating program through the Ben A. Arneson Institute of Practical Politics.

A new course, Introduction to Government and Politics, is designed to include the basic principles of the American system of government and the ideologies and governmental systems of other countries.

Six or seven advanced political science students are appointed yearly as Falk assistants in this course. This program is financed by a grant from the Falk Foundation of Pittsburgh, Pa., which is also a source of financial aid for the Arneson Institute.

Young Republicans and Democrats are encouraged to take part in local and state campaigns. Each year the Arneson Institute conducts a "First Voters Program," sponsoring political writing contests and student-faculty forums and it is now planning an annual lecture series on practical politics.

Today's world demands an increasing number of skilled businessmen and administrators who not only possess the technical knowledge necessary for their specific fields, but who have a sense of values and some understanding of the way in which their specific interests fit into our complex society.

For this reason, the Department of Economics and Business Administration includes many liberal arts courses. Carrying one of the largest enrollments in the University, the Department encourages students to gain actual experience through part-time or summer employment and through the cooperation of local businessmen, many students are given opportunities to put theory into practice. Effort is made to challenge students to consider current problems and issues in the light of their increasing knowledge of the motivations and methods found in business.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

• Sputniks, ballistic missiles, space travel and the H-bomb have turned the world spotlight on the sciences. Newspapers print editorials and world leaders make speeches declaring the urgent need for people with scientific and technological training.

More than this, however, there is a need for persons trained in the sciences who also have some sense of responsibility for the survival of the world.

Scientific training in a liberal arts college makes possible this combination.

The industrial world has demanded more people with science backgrounds to help keep our standard of living at its present high level, but without some sense of the ultimate significance of material progress, scientists cannot hope to achieve lasting advances.

Ohio Wesleyan's departments of science and mathematics supply the professional world and the laboratory with persons who have had an opportunity to investigate not only the technical but the ethical as well.

Physics Helps To Produce Scientists Of Tomorrow

From the wheel to the atomic age, from da Vinci to Einstein, the dramatic and intriguing field of physics has continued to illuminate the paths of those whose developments have led to progress in every phase of our lives.

In the Physics Department, through lectures, experiments and demonstrations, students learn the fundamentals of mechanics, heat, light, electricity, sound and the newest concern, nuclear physics.

The department offers excellent preparation for students who are planning to enter graduate or engineering schools, and the non-major will find a wealth of practical knowledge applicable to his everyday life.

Mathematics Is Foundation For Physical Sciences

Sidney A. Rowland, B.A. Chairman Professor

Mathematics is not only a study of figures, quantities and their relationships, but it is the foundation for the other physical sciences. Students of mathematics gain a vital background necessary for further scientific study or for professional careers in engineering, the sciences, teaching or industry. Study of mathematics also benefits the student by helping to develop mental disciplines and comprehension.

Requirements for a major in the field include 28 semester hours of mathematics, ranging from Differential and Integral Calculus to Differential Equations and Functions of a Complex Variable.

Astronomy Assumes New Role In Satellite Age

Although Prof. John E. Merrill, Chairman of the Astronomy Department, was on leave this year and no courses in astronomy were offered first semester, there was much activity at Perkins Observatory.

Operated jointly by Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State, Perkins carried on an extensive schedule of guest nights in addition to its heavy program of research. Also, the 69-inch mirror, ninth largest in the world, was given a coating of aluminum in place of the customary silver which had to be renewed every few months.

During the second semester, the basic course in astronomy was taught by Prof. Paul Annear of Baldwin-Wallace College. Director of the Observatory Geoffrey Keller was also on leave this year heading the astronomy program of the National Science Foundation.

Chemistry Students Observe The Interaction Of Matter

Chemistry plays a vital part in the modern world. This is evident in almost every phase of our material progress and in the advancements in the field of medicine and in man's struggle for his very existence.

The Ohio Wesleyan Chemistry Department, headed by Prof. William Manuel, takes pride in maintaining the high standards of training for which it is noted. In order to stimulate greater interest in chemistry, the department gives its support to the Chemistry Club and to the national honorary, Chi Gamma Nu. Each year the Chemistry Club brings to the campus prominent speakers to discuss topics of interest to the liberal arts student. The department also maintains its own library which provides up-to-date information on developments in chemistry and its fundamental theory and technology.

During the past several years research grants have been awarded to the OWU Department of Chemistry. The projects supported by these grants are carried out by staff members who are partially assisted by some of the advanced students.

Botany Makes Inquiry Into World Of Plants

An educated person is one who has a fair know-ledge and an appreciation of the environment in which he lives. This environment includes the plant world, the world of botany. This science deals with the source of man's food, his shelter, and his clothing.

In the Ohio Wesleyan Botany Department, a student can acquaint himself with all aspects of the plant kingdom, from General Botany to advanced courses in Bacteriology and Plant Physiology. Study is pursued through lectures, labs and occasional field trips.

Since Prof. George Burns, Chairman of the Department, held the position of Acting Dean of the College during the first semester, Prof. Emeritus Claude E. O'Neal returned to the department. Profs. Robert Long, Elwood Shirling and Mrs. George Crowl are also members of the Botany Department faculty.

Zoology Prepares Both Professional And Layman

The Zoology Department is concerned with both the student who is planning a career based on zoology and the one who wants to add some knowledge of this science to his store of general information. Pre-professional students may choose from courses such as Embryology, Anatomy, Ecology, Heredity and Evolution, Entomology and Ornithology. General Survey of Zoology attracts many students who are interested in learning about new discoveries and methods and the relationship of zoology to the other sciences. Chairman of the Zoology Department is Prof. William F. Hahnert.

Geology-Geography Discovers Details Of Earth's Structure

Prof. Cygan, of the Geology Department, enjoys his hobby, sailing, and is adviser to the OWU Sailing Club.

In our modern world of sputniks and the atom, the science of the earth's structure and the interpretation of it and its inhabitants, is more important than ever before. Geologists lead in today's search for uranium, oil, coal, and other natural resources which are so vital for our very existence, and in so doing, they fulfill a need as great as that of our scientists of the atom or the satellite.

Through classroom study and field trips, students in Ohio Wesleyan's Department of Geology and Geography, headed by Prof. George W. Crowl, learn of nature's materials and their relationship to man, either for personal knowledge, or as preparation for a future vocation.

PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATION

• Of vast importance to future educators and parents is the study of human behavior —how a child learns, how he may be motivated and how his capacities may be measured and developed.

Psychology lays the groundwork for the principles of education by experimenting with the learning methods of various levels of organisms. From the study of infrahuman and human learning and motivation, the best methods of teaching can be developed. Thus, the field of education puts into practice many of the theories worked out by psychology.

Educators, made more aware of individual differences, are better able to challenge exceptional children, both subnormal and brilliant. Recent findings of psychologists have given great impetus to the progressive education movement and have made evident the fact that good teaching is the responsibility of both psychologists and educators.

Psychology Assists Student In Adjusting To Society

The primary purpose of psychology is to provide a background for the student so that he may more efficiently meet the demands and problems of life in adjusting to society. The department offers study in the practical application of psychology as well as the intricate methods of testing, counseling, and experimentation. Pre-professional students are offered courses which are designed to help in a specific field. Work in theoretical psychology and personal counseling are also available. If a student wishes more extensive study in psychology, he may do individual research.

With the present upward trend in school enrollment, the demand for competent teachers is increasing yearly. Not only must this quantitative need be fulfilled, but in this age of rapid technological advancement, the quality of teaching must also rise.

As a liberal arts college, Ohio Wesleyan attempts to instill in its students the ability to think independently and analytically on all issues which they may encounter. This general objective is fulfilled by the Education Department, which is primarily concerned with imparting the fundamental techniques and the psychology employed in the teaching process itself. The foundation of the secondary school teacher is further developed by the completion of a major in the subject which he expects to teach.

In addition to this academic training, education majors receive practical experience as student teachers in nearby schools. This not only deepens the student's insight into the processes and problems of teaching, but also is another way in which community interests are furthered by the University.

FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

 A study of the fine arts and applied arts offers a person the opportunity to express himself in other ways than with words. Some of the courses offered are of interest to the non-major as well as to the major in this field. The students are given the chance not only to display their creative ability, but also to extend their appreciation of the arts. Students learn to project their feelings and emotions in paintings and musical compositions. The arts of dress-designing, cooking, and many other facets of home life require women to possess a special kind of creative talent. The true enjoyment of the arts lies not only in the initial effects received from a creation, but also in having a sufficient knowledge of the problems and techniques involved in obtaining the finished product. Many long hours are spent in the arts to learn and improve skills which someday may turn out finished products bringing world renown or just a great deal of satisfaction.

Study Of Art Emphasizes Creation And Appreciation

Creating a material object from a thought or reproducing a perception is a part of the work of a Fine Arts student. The Art Department provides facilities for the student to pursue art study with various emphases, the mediums of expression including painting, sculpture, interior decoration, fashion illustration, commercial art or art education. Attempts to stimulate aesthetic sensitivities and to help student artists communicate their ideas have a part in the program. The art department is responsible for monthly exhibitions in the Memorial Union and student work is on display in Lyon Art Hall. Courses in art history encourage students to appreciate art as well as to create it.

Music Department Brings World's Artists To Campus

Music plays a very important part in life at Ohio Wesleyan University, both from the standpoint of participation and from that of enjoyment.

Every year the A Cappella Choir, the Men's Glee Club, and the Women's Glee Club present a concert which highlights the Christmas season. During Monnett Weekend these three organizations combined with the orchestra under the direction of Professor Rexford Keller to present Honegger's oratorio, "King David," which featured several professional vocalists and was narrated by Basil Rathbone, renowned actor.

Opportunity for the display of musical ability is by no means limited to the music major. Neither has a narrowness developed in the types of music performed. In contrast to the serious work cited above, the marching band does its part to add to the color of the football season.

Individual accomplishments in music take several forms. Chief among these are the recitals which are required of music majors. These add to the program of musical performances throughout the year and also give the student the opportunity for the fullest display of his musical ability. No less important is the completion of an honor's project, which represents a high degree of initiative in musical ability and interpretation.

Home Economics Teaches Women To Live Creatively

One of the vital aspects of Ohio Wesleyan University's task of educating its young women to live creatively after graduation is covered by the Home Economics Department, which offers four majors: Institutional Management and Dietetics, Teaching, Homemaking and Business and Clothing. In this way, the student has the opportunity to prepare for a professional career as well as for a successful and happy family and home life.

Supervised practice training in household economics and management is given to girls who live in the Home Management house. The Ohio Wesleyan Nursery School serves as an observation center for child guidance and child development classes.

While Miss Lelia Massey, head of the Department, was on leave second semester for study in England, work has been carried out smoothly under the direction of Prof. Constance Whitaker, with the Home Economics Club and Phi Upsilon Omicron, the Home Economics honorary, participating in various projects and social events.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

 Physical-fitness and activities for leisure hours are the two chief aims of the physical education department. The principle being stressed is that people cannot be alert and think intelligently if the body is physically unsound. There are many opportunities for improving skills or learning new ones, for these sports offered are designed to accommodate any level of ability. Many intangible values are involved, besides pure enjoyment, in physical education. Learning to get along with others and tough competition help to build strong characters. The service classes, which include some co-educational, provide numerous opportunities for mixed activities. All of these activities center around the common principle of "sportsmanship" which is basic to any participation or competition involving group relations. The only prerequisites are willingness to learn and an interest in the particular sports offered.

Physical Education Classes Offer Variety Of Sports

The physical education department has a well-rounded program that operates on the principle of "sound bodies, sound minds." This program of healthy development stresses progress and ability in many different sports ranging from team sports such as basketball, volleyball and soccer to individual sports including handball, archery, swimming and golf. Also, courses such as social dancing, modern dance, and camping skills are offered. The skills learned in these various sports are designed to teach students a type of recreation that they may enjoy both as participants and as spectators.

In addition to the service courses, the department is concerned with courses in theory. For example, Hygiene, First Aid and Safety Education, Physiology and Problems in High School Coaching are offered both as requirements for physical education majors and as electives.

First Aid students learn to cope with emergency situations.

MILITARY SCIENCE

• The military science courses are designed to prepare Ohio Weslevan students to be the airmen of tomorrow. The student in the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps is familiarized with the Air Force methods and tactics of the present as well as those of the future. "Introduction to Aviation," "Drill and Exercise of Command." "Elements of Aerial Warfare," are some of the basic courses offered to the new cadets. These, plus a number of advanced courses, help to prepare the cadet to become an officer. Along with the education and instruction received, the men learn discipline and how to follow orders properly. Marching helps the cadets develop coordination and the ability to work together. The presence of an AFROTC unit on campus is symbolic of the fact that preservation of the security and freedom of the United States is of prime importance.

Phi Beta Membership High Scholastic Goal

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa has long been regarded as one of the pinnacles of scholastic achievement. The first Greekletter social group, Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1776 at William and Mary College. It has since been changed to a national scholastic fraternity and has established 141 chapters with over 50,000 members in leading colleges and universities in the United States. The Ohio Eta Chapter at Ohio Weslevan was installed in 1907 and has approximately 1500 members, 50 of whom are present students, faculty or administrators of the University. Each year the chapter selects those members of the junior and senior classes who are qualified on the basis of character and scholarship in liberal arts and sciences.

Phi Society Recognizes First-Year Scholarship

The purpose of the Phi Society is to attempt to place scholarship uppermost in the minds of all the students, not just its members. This year the organization, under President John Poulos and Secretary Carol Winters, initiated 57 sophomores who had an accumulative point average of 3.3 or better for their freshman year. An invitation to join Phi Society, recognition of high scholarship on the freshman level, is the first step toward membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Each June brings to an end the undergraduate days of a senior class. This fall 421 registered for their last year. But it was just four short years ago 600 incoming freshmen embarked upon their college careers here at Ohio Wesleyan. During that course some have transferred or fallen short scholastically, while others have joined their ranks from other colleges. Now, after four years of studies, social life, and activities this class is moving out into a larger world better prepared to make their way through it. The Class of 1958 leaves behind a series of night lights for the campus's main walk. They take with them from Ohio Wesleyan a two-fold experience. It has been a binding one, tying classmates together in the common experiences of fraternity, dorms, classes and chapel. And it has been a transforming one, shaping ideas, characters, actions and goals.

Women's Halls Offer Opportunity For Each

Women's residence halls at Ohio Wesleyan present a unique situation in comparison with the geographic range of the campuses. While the University is spread over several campuses, the residence halls are all located in one area and bring together as many as 300 or as few as 20 women in one living unit.

Regardless of the particular residence hall or cooperative house, each woman is able to create her own opportunity to gain awareness and tolerance of others. At the same time, she, as a part of the group, can develop and contribute her personal opinions. By the varied contributions, the many individuals who compose the group can mutually arrive at living policies which are acceptable to all OWU women.

Home for 275 freshmen women—Stuyvesant Hall.

The first vacation has finally come and freshmen Betsy White and Sue Heiskell decide what to take home.

Stuy Places Frosh In Beautiful Setting

Upon arrival at Ohio Wesleyan University, the first destination of the freshman women is Stuyvesant Hall. They are particularly impressed by Stuyvesant's tower gleaming in the sunlight and by the tree-shaded walk through the glen. Soon the women become acquainted with the various aspects of dorm life—senior advisers, corridor mates, long lunch lines and serenades. This year, Barb Rossiter and Bonnie Birdsell were elected presidents.

Stuyvesant, which houses about two hundred seventy-five freshmen, is the gift of the late Frank E. Stuyvesant. Located near the other women's residence halls, the building, which is of Early American design, is the newest of the women's residences. A special feature of the building is the carillon tower whose chimes include fifteen bells. A sunken lounge, colonial fireplace and a patio with a fountain and landscaped garden help to make living pleasant for Stuy's occupants.

103-Year-Old Tradition Surrounds Monnett Hall

The friendly atmosphere, a tradition in Monnett Hall since its founding in 1855, was supplemented in 1958 by the serious attempt of each individual to establish an over-all atmosphere conducive to study, and to apply this learning in helping to formulate policies for group living. It is this adjustment that has offered each girl an opportunity to develop her own character. Mary Davis served as president of the hall.

Miss Barbara Griffin, Monnett's new resident counselor, soon became acquainted with the women in her residence hall.

White-Pillared Austin Hall Houses Upperclass Women

Through a spirit of co-operation and enthusiasm, the women of Austin Hall take pride in their group living program headed by President Sue Schmuck. Miss Peggy Lusk, resident counselor, helps to develop this spirit by her willingness to listen to problems and to offer advice. Overlooking the West Campus, the white-pillared residence hall welcomes the upperclass women of Ohio Wesleyan to their educational experience.

Smaller Housing Units Inspire Responsibility

The smaller housing units on Ohio Wesleyan's campus are not just places for women students to live, but represent a way of life. Each provides a warm atmosphere of friendship in which women of widely differing backgrounds find a real sense of unity as they work together. In Perkins Hall and 112 West Winter, students share the responsibility for keeping their house clean and orderly, but they eat lunch and dinner in the residence halls. The 19 women at Hayes House, however, prepare all their own meals as well as performing other household duties. One-Twelve women celebrated Halloween and Christmas with special parties, and Hayes residents remember the dinner which their housemother, Mrs. Welch, gave at Christmastime, which included everything from onion sandwiches to sugar plums. Perkins Hall was the scene of first college days for the freshman women occupants. Women who live in these smaller groups agree that they have a unique opportunity to learn the meaning of fellowship and cooperation in a situation which has placed additional responsibility on each woman.

Doll collections are enjoyed by Perkins women and their housemother, Mrs. Harvey Hewitt.

Women's Self-Government Achieved Through AWS

Emily Kerr Judicial President

Carolyn Strecker Executive President

All Ohio Wesleyan women are members of the Association of Women Students. First created out of a desire for self government, AWS has as a goal the establishment and administration of policies which will create a successful group living situation on Ohio Wesleyan's campus, as well as the development of individual standards of self-direction and responsibility. A board of 18 elected officers representing the women co-ordinates the legislative, judicial and executive functions of AWS. Emily Kerr and Carolyn Strecker as judicial and executive presidents, respectively, headed this year's Board which was composed of judicial and executive secretaries, social, publicity and standards chairmen, class and town representatives, treasurer, and the presidents of each living unit. Among the projects sponsored by AWS this year were the Super Sellout Auction, Monnett Weekend, the Dawn Dance, and two chapel programs.

Panhellenic Council Rules Activities Of Sororities

The sororities on the Ohio Wesleyan campus are brought together for discussion of mutual problems and ideas by the Panhellenic Council, which consists of two representatives from each of the 12 women's fratemities. This year's Council was led by Nancy Fitch, president, and Margery Bensinger, rush chairman. The Council, by legislating and administering rules governing rushing, pledging, and initiation, and by acting as a basic discussion group, tried to promote better intersorority relationships. The main social event sponsored by the Council is the Golddiggers' Ball. The Council this year was primarily concerned with an overall evaluation of the rushing system and the setting up of new rushing procedures.

Alpha Chis Founded With Music As Chief Tradition

The pogo cello is a favorite among the Alpha Chis.

Depauw University in 1885 saw the founding of Alpha Chi Omega. In the new music department seven women sensed the need for a social fraternity, so they founded Alpha Chi Omega with music as its chief tradition. Being the first musical fraternity, the first letter in the Greek alphabet was adopted, as well as the last, Omega. They are known by their lyre badge, appropriately signifying the first Greek musical instrument. The scarlet and olive green colors of the 83 chapters represent the October founding.

With Carolyn Gass as president, fall rush began with a German band and its "pogo cello," the newest of musical instruments. The Alpha Chis then raced through another year of open houses, parties, early morning breakfasts, Butler Farm and the spring formal. Campus leaders included Lisa Plavcan, president, and Jan Fast, vice-president, of Mortar Board; Mary Davis, Monnett Hall president, and Joni Lappin and Mary Jane Hagmann, senior advisers. Barbara Martin was elected Homecoming Queen, and many sisters were initiated into campus honoraries.

A D Pis First National Sorority At OWU

Alpha Delta Pi was founded May 15, 1851, as the Adelphean Society and became the first secret society in the world for college women. Alpha Sigma chapter was instituted as the first national sorority on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in 1863. Membership in Alpha Delta Pi now numbers in excess of 45,000 and there are more than 250 alumnae associations in the United States and Canada.

Alpha Sigma chapter had a successful season this year under the capable leadership of President Cindy Smullen, Vice-President Eleanor Kirk, Secretary Margaret Read and Treasurer Marion Haygood. Among the many activities of the chapter were fraternity parties, a Christmas open house, a caroling party, and a Valentine party. The Alpha Delta Pis were also represented in a variety of campus organizations, and several of the girls were selected as members of some of the campus honoraries.

Alpha Gams Support Project With Chili Dinner Proceeds

Sorority life involves more than parties.

The international fraternity of Alpha Gamma Delta was founded on May 30, 1904, at Syracuse University. Twenty years later on Founder's Day, Alpha Delta, the 28th chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta, joined the everexpanding circle. Before Alpha Delta became a member of the international group, it was Alpha Beta Phi, a social group established on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in the fall of 1922. For many years their home was 120 West Winter Street, but in 1950 they moved to the pale green home located on Sorority Circle.

Under the leadership of Nancy Crossley, the Alpha Gams have experienced another successful year. The large pink whale captured first place in the Homecoming float display. Other social activities to be remembered are the Dad's Day-Homecoming open house, the pledge open house, Butler Farm, the Christmas party, the surprise breakfasts in the early morning hours, the spring formal, and the chili supper, which helps to fulfill the chapter contribution to the National Altruistic Project. Many Alpha Gams participated in campus activities and honoraries, including Dee Hawkins, senior adviser, and Cynthia Black, who was a member of Mortar Board.

Alpha Xis Join Ohio State Chapter For Founder's Day

Scrapbooks will remind freshmen of pledgeship.

6 Darlington Road

Alpha Xi Delta was organized and established at Lombard College in Galesburg, Illinois, on April 17, 1893, the day that is observed as national Founder's Day wherever Alpha Xi Deltas are found. The Alpha Mu chapter on the Ohio Wesleyan campus celebrates this day each year with the Alpha Xi women at Ohio State University. The fraternity was founded by a group of ten earnest young women, not to satisfy a youthful desire for a club for fun and frolic, but as the fulfillment of an enduring vision.

The founders of Alpha Xi Delta had a vision of a fraternity that "seeks to cultivate a true spirit of friendship among its members; that encourages, aids and protects its members by all honorable means during life and maintains in all acts the highest sense of honor and duty." The members of Alpha Mu chapter have tried to fulfill this vision by participation in campus organizations and honoraries. Laura Pierce was elected vice-president of the student body, Barbara Beach was tapped by Mortar Board, and other sisters held positions of leadership in a variety of activities.

Chi Os Win Float Contest Sixth Consecutive Year

Chi Omegas admire their homecoming float trophies.

151 W. Winter Street

The predecessor of the Kappa Gamma chapter of Chi Omega was the Alpha chapter of Kappa Gamma Chi, founded on February 21, 1890, the first local sorority on Wesleyan's campus. Early in the 1900's Kappa Gamma Chi was nationalized, and in 1912, it became a national dramatic sorority. On October 31, 1925, this group affiliated with Chi Omega, which claims the distinction of having the largest number of chapters, with

Under the roof of the white house at 151 West Winter Street, many Ohio Wesleyan coeds can be found studying, planning, singing, or relaxing over a cup of coffee. Under the leadership of president Jay Highley, the girls took part in Chi Omega State Day, the Monnett Weekend breakfast, the annual pledge and initiation banquets and a style show. For the sixth consecutive year the Chi Os won first place in the 1957 Homecoming float contest, working with the Tri-Delts and the Alpha Gams. In addition to these special activities, the girls participated in debate, publications, YWCA cabinet, Women's Physical Education Club, Dolphins and Dolphinettes and various dramatic crews. Sixteen Chi Omegas were members of choral groups. Jean Shultz played "Nettie" in Carousel, Barb Birsinger was a senior adviser and Jeanette Walters was elected secretary of Austin Hall. Many Chi Os held Psi Chi, Mu Phi Epsilon and Phi Beta Kappa memberships.

Tri-Delts Formed From Two OWU Locals In 1925

The eager anticipation of a phone call.

120 W. Winter Street

On Thanksgiving Eve of 1888, in the Philological Library of Jacob Sleeper Hall at Boston University, Delta Delta Delta was founded as an embodiment of those ideals of friendship held by two women. Today Tri-Delt has expanded to over 60,000 members, comprising 102 collegiate chapters and 265 alumnae chapters. On March 27, 1925, the sorority was born at Ohio Wesleyan when Lambda Alpha Sigma and Delta Omicron, both local sororities, became the Delta Upsilon Chapter. In 1949, 120 West Winter Street became the present "landmark" and home.

This year Homecoming was a big event as Marilyn Lais was chosen as attendant to the queen, and the Tri-Delt float won first place in the competition. Darrell Hamaker reigned as one of the Brown Jug Queens, and Betty Andrews and Sue Ann Jett served as ROTC sponsors. Carol Anne Winters was elected secretary of Phi Society and Nancy Fitch was president of Panhellenic. The social calendar was again kept busy with the Founder's Day Banquet, a trip to Butler Farm, an apple pie breakfast, the Christmas Dinner, faculty tea, spring formal and the Pansy Tea.

DGs Entertain Children From School For Blind

The DGs new kitchen provides a place for fun and relaxation.

148 W. Winter Street

Delta Gamma was founded at Lewis School in Oxford, Mississippi, in December, 1873, by three girls who formed a society based on friendship, loyalty, personal conduct and scholarship. In 1905, a local sorority, Phi Omega Phi, was founded on Ohio Wesleyan's campus, which in 1924, became the Alpha Rho chapter of Delta Gamma. The Delta Gammas, along with the other sororities on campus, had rented rooms for their "house" until 1950, when they bought and remodeled their present house at 148 West Winter.

Since that time, many Delta Gammas have reached the top in campus activities. This year Betty Crider and June Kiger were elected president and executive secretary of the YWCA. Emily Kerr served as judicial president of AWS. From the pledge class, Ann Armstrong and Linda Cunningham were executive secretary and treasurer, respectively, of Stuyvesant Hall. Greta Thomas was Delta Gamma's representative on the Homecoming Court, and the ROTC sponsors included seven DGs. The group enjoyed working on the Hawaiian party, the annual sock auction, and the party given for some of the children at the Ohio State School for the Blind.

Gamma Phis Aid Families During Christmas Season

Let's play this one next.

24 Winbeth Lane

The red house on Winbeth Lane has been the home of Gamma Phi Beta for the past seven years, during which time Mrs. Elsie Meyer has served as housemother. In 1923, 18 members of the local group, Delta Psi, founded the Alpha Eta chapter, which is the only true sorority at Ohio Wesleyan, the others being fraternities for women. This chapter has grown from its original number to its present membership of 80 women. Gamma Phi Beta was originally founded on November 11, 1874, at Syracuse University and now has more than 60 active chapters.

The Gamma Phis began the school year by changing the theme of their formal rush party to "Winnie the Pooh," which was very successful. A theme party to honor the new pledges gave the boys an idea of what actually happens at a formal rush party and at a hash session. At Christmas time, instead of having a party, the Gamma Phis contributed the funds necessary to make a few families have a happier holiday season. With eight sophomores in Phi Society and one girl in Phi Beta Kappa, Gamma Phi was well represented in academic honoraries, as well as in many other campus organizations.

Thetas Are Oldest Greek Letter Society For Women

The first snow doesn't always mean work.

179 W. Winter Street

In January of 1867, the doors of Indiana Asbury College were first opened to women. Three years later, two of the four women admitted to the college, which later became DePauw University, founded Kappa Alpha Theta, the first Greek letter society known among women. Shortly after this, Gamma chapter was established at Ohio Wesleyan. It left campus when sororities were abolished and was re-established in 1924 as Gamma Deuteron. Thus, from the nucleus at Greencastle, Ind., Theta has expanded to its present size of 76 chapters.

To maintain Theta tradition, the Gamma Deuterons are active on the OWU campus. This year Sue Shidaker and Mary Root served on the AWS board while Sue Schmuck and Bonnie Birdsall were presidents of Austin and Stuyvesant Halls, respectively. Joy Miller served as student body secretary. Pat Roney and Cindy Shetter were cheerleaders and Portia Brownell led the band as a majorette. Chosen as an attendant to the Homecoming queen was Cindy Shetter, while Jo Reiff won the contest for Campus Queen.

Kappas Hold Christmas Party For Faculty Members

It's Halloween at the Kappa house.

126 W. Winter Street

Since October 13, 1870, when Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded by six women at Monmouth College, in Monmouth, Illinois, it has expanded to include a total of 45,000 members. Rho Chapter was established at Ohio Wesleyan in 1880, and with one other national fraternity, existed until 1884, when fraternities were disbanded by a faculty ruling. In January, 1925, a group of women organized as Rho Sigma, petitioned Kappa Kappa Gamma, and on May 1, 1925, Rho Sigma became the re-established Rho chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

During this year Rho chapter, under the leadership of Carolyn Alexander, had leaders in numerous phases of campus life. Four Kappas were selected as senior advisers. Mary Kay Hall was tapped for Mortar Board. AWS officers were Maren Churchill, standards chairman, and Nancy Morgan, judicial secretary. Other officers were Meredith Sayle, Austin Hall treasurer; Pat Ross, Monnett social chairman; Barb Rossiter, Stuyvesant judicial president; and Alice McAllister, social chairman of Stuyvesant Hall. Kappa was also well represented in departmental honoraries. During the Christmas season, the group held a party for faculty members.

Pi Phi National Membership Largest Of All Sororities

Let's really smash that Humanities bluebook.

96 Elizabeth Street

The Ohio Delta chapter of Pi Beta Phi, under the leadership of Sue Tweed, started another year by opening its doors to 28 new pledges. Since then, the Pi Phi house has hummed with activity. The pledges, under Pledge Trainer Elaine Fately, were especially busy learning the history of their sorority. Pi Beta Phi, the first women's organization to be founded under the principles of a true sisterhood, is also the largest national sorority in total membership.

This year found the Pi Phis keeping old traditions with their Sigma Chi breakfast and their overnight at Butler Farm. The Pi Phis were active in campus organizations and honoraries. Campus leaders were Carolyn Strecker, executive president of AWS, and Jennie Dickson, vice-president of YWCA. They were also proud of senior advisers, Ruth-Anne Spurrier and Andi Studor, cheerleaders Janie Wiegel and Elaine Fately, majorettes Gwen Greenfield and Elaine Peterson and Barb Watkins, who was sweetheart of Kappa Sigma for the state of Indiana last year.

Zetas Sponsor Annual Pledge Prince Contest

Bridge is a typical study break activity.

A Zeta Tau Alpha may be recognized proudly wearing the six-pointed shield and golden crown with the raised letters, ZTA. The national organization was founded in Farmville, Virginia, on October 15, 1898, and is now established in almost all of the 48 states, Canada and Hawaii. The Alpha Omega chapter at Ohio Wesleyan is the 49th of 101 active chapters, the most recent having been installed in 1956. The Zetas enjoy the privileges of a modern home, the fellowship of sisters and the support of very active alumnae.

This past summer and fall the alums helped terrace the back yard. The house was the center for activities such as the "Zeta Pledge Prince Contest," as well as being a home for all the girls. This year the chapter participated in many fields of activity. Judy Franzen was literary editor of the OWL. Peg Feld received her fourth varsity award and acted as secretary of the Sailing Club. Dolly Bowers, vice-president, received her preacher's license and was student minister at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

MEN'S LIVING

The life of an Ohio Wesleyan male student revolves around the residence halls and fraternity houses, with the 15 fraternities providing housing for the majority of the men. Freshmen usually do not live in the fraternity houses, but are housed in one of the three residence halls during their first year. In either Freshman Residence Hall 1 or 2, or Selby, life is a mixture of new associations, studying and little sleep. Upperclassmen may choose to live in the fraternity house or in University-approved housing in town. Fraternity life offers the men students a chance to be a part of a society within a society since they have the opportunity to plan their own social, athletic and economic programs. For those who desire more solitude, there are rooms available in the homes of Delaware residents.

Three men from Selby discuss the day's activities.

IFC Coordinating Body For Fifteen Fraternities

Established as a coordinating body for the 15 national fraternities on the Ohio Wesleyan campus, the Interfraternity Council is composed of fraternity presidents and their junior representatives.

The purpose of IFC is to further the social relationships among fraternities, to unify fraternity action with regard to common problems, to act as a medium of cooperation between the University and individual fraternities and to uphold and promote the objectives of the National Interfraternity Conference.

Alpha Sig Vocal Groups Sing For Students, Alumni

A dessert party provides after-dinner entertainment.

121 N. Washington Street

With its Alpha chapter being founded as the eleventh national fraternity December 6, 1845, Epsilon was activated June 6, 1863, at Ohio Wesleyan then known as Delaware College. Depleted by the Civil War, the chapter was dissolved in 1864. In 1913, the chapter was reactivated, following a summons to the Michigan chapter at Ann Arbor.

Following last spring's victory in the Interfraternity Song Fest, the Alpha Sigs continued their musical prominence through their octet and quartet which sang at several University and alumni meetings during the year, including the Cleveland Monnett Club and the Board of Trustees meeting in February. During the football season, members of the group purchased an old ambulance and helped to arouse University spirit through pep parades to the games. Bob Ball and Dave Rouse were co-captains of the swimming team again, while Rollin Morrison posted an excellent record as a wrestler. ATOs Sponsor Christmas Party For Children's Home

The ATOs take time out from studies to harmonize.

290 N. Sandusky Street

Beta Eta of Alpha Tau Omega was founded on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in 1924, just 22 years after the fraternity's birth. Being one of 117 chapters in the United States and Canada, the fraternity's goal has always been that of binding men together in the ties of true brotherhood. On the national level, Alpha Tau Omega has initiated the policy of Help Week.

This past year the ATOs have had members in virtually every academic field. In order to support their liberal education they have participated in many extracurricular activities, including student government, dramatics, radio, and publications. The Alpha Taus fielded teams in all intramural sports and were well represented in varsity athletics. The social calendar was a busy one, highlighted by winter and spring formals, a Christmas party for the Children's Home, the annual "Speakeasy" Party and numerous sorority socials. This year the ATOs added greatly to the enjoyment and brotherhood of fraternity life with 18 new brothers.

Beta Sig Charter Chapter Founded in 1947 at OWU

A lively hula entertains the brothers.

81 Park Avenue

The parent chapter of Beta Sigma Tau was founded at Ohio Wesleyan in 1947 by a group of returning war veterans who judged a man on the basis of his character, not his race or religion. One year later the national fraternity of Beta Sigma Tau, which now has 23 chapters, was formed. The national advisory board includes Eleanor Roosevelt and former President Harry S. Truman.

The year 1957-58 began successfully for the Beta Sigs with the pledging of 23 new members. With their support and participation, a full year of academic, athletic and social programs was instituted. Academically, the group won last year's Scholarship Improvement trophy. Athletically, they participated in both intramural and varsity sports. A very complete social year was highlighted by three formals and the Bohemian party.

Mrs. Ina Keltner, housemother, and Miss White, the new cook, comprised the female element, which made the house a home. Graduation ends Beta Sig's eleventh year on campus — enjoyable and successful in all fields of endeavor.

Betas Participate In All Varsity Sports

A ping-pong game relieves that study tension.

Theta Chapter of Beta Theta Pi, the oldest fraternity at Ohio Wesleyan, continued its illustrious history during the past year under the leadership of Dave Carver and Bob Groshok. Although pleased with the pledging of 25 outstanding men, those at 54 W. Lincoln Avenue, nevertheless, missed the services of brother J. J. Somerville, retired Dean of Men, who had served Ohio Wesleyan and Theta Chapter since 1935.

Beta was well represented in extra-curricular activities. Ed Geiger was president of the Senior Class and chairman of Religious Emphasis Week, while Bud Douthett was president of Circle K and Dave Carver was president of IFC Court.

Betas were on every varsity athletic team and the chapter maintained its high intramural standing. "Mamma" Linn, housemother, who has the longest record of service at Ohio Wesleyan, and Morrie Hollenbaugh, alumni adviser, helped guide the fortunes of "Wooglin's" men through the year. Socially, the brothers were kept busy with the winter and spring formals, the Miami Triad, hayrides and date nights.

Chi Phis Garner IM Touch Football Trophy

The brothers pitch in to make Christmas formal decorations.

The Alpha Chi chapter of Chi Phi fraternity again experienced a year of achievement at the sign of "The Oaks." The chapter started the year with a flourish by pledging 15 men, and then proceeded to capture the intramural touch football crown. Participation in all intramural activities aided in compiling an impressive record.

In University activities, Bob Scheidemantel reigned as IFC president, while Jim McNew was active in both Circle K and YMCA. Varsity sports played an important role in 1957-58 as Bruce Constantinides and Bob Richardson supplemented OWU's soccer squad. McNew in swimming and Dick Rebillard and Ken Terry in baseball contributed much to the Battling Bishops' success.

The annual spring formal offered a memorable climax to the year. This "biggest" chapter social event was one of a chain of many that helped make the year an outstanding one in the minds of the brothers of Chi Phi.

Delts Hold Several Student Gov't Offices

The Delt combo strikes up a jazz number.

In its 91st year on the Ohio Wesleyan campus, Mu chapter of Delta Tau Delta enjoyed the fruits of its labor which, in the past, has produced men such as baseball's Branch Rickey. Mu was active in many fields, including scholastic and extra-curricular.

Men returning last fall found the interfraternity scholarship trophy again residing on the Delt mantle. With this award as a boost, the Mu men accomplished a successful rush week by acquiring 24 pledges. On the extra-curricular side, Jim McHolland, student body president, returned to Student Government activities accompanied by a host of committee chairmen and members.

In other areas, Delts held top posts on the publications' staffs. Athletics were not neglected as a large number of Delts participated in varsity sports. The Delt intramural teams also performed capably for the chapter. Leaders for this year were President Dick Hottel, Vice President Don Hughes, Treasurer Jim Eickhoff and Secretaries Bob Morrill and John Porter.

National Awards Given To Five Kappa Sigs

Freshman work sessions keep the Kappa Sig house orderly.

Kappa Sigma was founded at the University of Virginia in 1869, and has since grown into one of the largest national fraternities, with 128 national chapters. Delta Kappa chapter was founded on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in 1926.

Delta Kappa began an eventful year by pledging a fine group of freshmen. The chapter presidency was held by both Art Gosling and Dick Peterson, while "Mom" Johnston completed a decade of valuable service as housemother. The Kappa Sigmas were prominent in many facets of campus life including the staffs at WSLN, the Transcript and Ohio Wesleyan drama organizations.

The Kappa Sig intramural squads were active, and five men received awards from national headquarters for excellence in scholarship and leadership. An extensive social calendar was climaxed by the Stardust Ball at which the 1958 queen was crowned. The Kappa Sigs can look back with pride on the 1957-58 school year as a significant one in their college careers and a rewarding one in the brotherhood of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Phi Delt Grads Include Dr. Sockman, James Nance

The Christmas formal provides one of the social highlights.

130 N. Washington Street

Ohio Beta of Phi Delta Theta was founded on this campus 98 years ago, just 12 years after the national founding at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. Throughout these years such famous men as Dr. Ralph Sockman and James J. Nance have graduated from Ohio Beta's ranks.

The Phi Delts began the year by welcoming a new housemother, Mrs. Kathryn Hendricks, to 130 North Washington St. Then came the pledging of 27 "Phikeias," who proved that quality is compatible with quantity. With Mom Hendricks' help, Ohio Beta carried out a varied social program highlighted by two formals, the Miami Triad, election open houses, and many informal gatherings.

The diversity which all fraternities seek was provided by the various Phi Delts who took part in such campus activities as Student Government, Men's Court, the Transcript and varsity and intramural athletics. Thus, Phi Delta Theta completed its 98th year on campus, successful and enjoyable in all respects.

Outstanding IM Record Maintained By Phi Gams

The Fiji house gets that Christmas look.

Founded in 1869, Theta Deuteron chapter of Phi Gamma Delta entered its 89th year on the Ohio Wesleyan campus with a high level of chapter enthusiasm as the Fijis remained in positions of leadership in varsity athletics, honoraries, Student Government, publications and service organizations.

The chapter maintained its outstanding scholarship record, while also striving for its sixth All-Year Intramural Trophy in seven years. A full social calendar, highlighted by the memorable Fiji Island party and including frequent open houses and date nights, balanced the Fijis' campus life.

Mindful of the rich heritage developed by preceding Theta Deuteron brothers, including National Phi Gamma Delta President Philip C. Ebeling, National Executive Secretary Cecil Wilkinson, theologian Norman Vincent Peale and former United States Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, the members found in Phi Gamma Delta a source of spiritual enrichment and the rewards of brotherhood.

Phi Psis Win National Award For Scholarship

The Phi Psis serenade their senior pinmates.

One-hundred and six years ago two college students, William Letterman and Charles Moore, conceived the idea of forming an organization based on the principle of attaining joy by serving others. These two men founded the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity February 19, 1852, at Jefferson College. In 1861, the Ohio Alpha chapter was founded at Ohio Wesleyan. Many famous men including Woodrow Wilson, General Billy Mitchell, and James Whitcomb Riley, have come through the ranks of Phi Kappa Psi.

The past year, after pledging 27 men, the chapter produced a good representation in varsity athletics, student government, dramatics, publications, and other campus activities. Along with the activities, the chapter had a full schedule of social events climaxed by the winter and spring formals, the Jeff-Duo party, date nights and dessert parties. Highlights of the 1957-58 year came when Ohio Alpha received the National Phi Kappa Psi Scholarship Improvement award and the W-Clan trophy.

SAEs Honor W. F. Bigelow With Testimonial Dinner

The SAE's entertain guests at a formal evening dinner.

"The crest and crowning of all good, life's final star, is brotherhood." These words by Edwin Markham exemplify the spirit of Ohio Delta during the 1957-58 academic year. After the return of the brothers, many of whom held important positions on campus, 25 men, qualified and willing to uphold the traditions, were pledged.

Highlighting the year socially was the William F. Bigelow Testimonial Dinner, honoring the most zealous alumnus, the winter formal, the Founder's Day party, the Roaring Twenties party, the pledge formal, and various open houses. In addition to the acquisition of new dining room furniture, Ohio Delta was one of 10 national chapters to receive a set of reference books. Under the leadership of President Deny Nock, SAE can boast of its standing in every phase of campus life. Confident of its strength, aware of its weaknesses, and mindful of its responsibilities, Ohio Delta of Sigma Alpha Epsilon faces the future, eager to prove its worth.

Gamma Second Oldest Sigma Chi Chapter

An informal chow-break quiets those hunger pains.

Gamma Chapter of Sigma Chi was founded on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in 1855, the same year as its national founding at Miami. In being the second of its present 127 chapters, Gamma has viewed a full year in all phases of fraternity life, a year that can be pointed to with pride: an outstanding pledge class, a well-developed social calendar with the Triad, Winter and Spring formals as highlights, a high standing in intramural sports and a feeling of unity in all that was accomplished.

In addition, the brothers participated in a host of campus activities, including debate, radio, student government and athletics, plus possessing dramatic leads and memberships in many honoraries and musical organizations. But, concerned not only with the present, the chapter made advances in its drive for a new house. In all, Gamma Chapter of Sigma Chi realized the friendship and brotherhood which makes for a wholesome life, not merely a college experience.

Sig Eps Take Intramural Honors In Basketball

The IM champs practice their basketball day and night.

Ohio Epsilon of Sigma Phi Epsilon began its career on the Ohio Wesleyan campus in 1915, just 14 years after the national founding at Richmond University. The fraternity, which has now grown to 146 chapters, includes such alumni as Woody Herman and Senator Byrd.

The Ohio Wesleyan chapter began the year by pledging 27 freshmen, one of their largest pledge classes. In athletics, the Sig Eps copped first place in their football league, took the basketball championship and placed high in other competition. On campus, Sig Ep men held both the IFC treasurer post and the WSLN station manager position. The house on North Washington Street also received a refinishing, as both actives and pledges pitched in to help. With the building fund increasing rapidly, a new house appears to be in the near future. The social calendar ranged frcm hayrides to formals, with the highlight of the social year being the winter formal entitled Winter Wonderland and based on the characters of Walt Disney. Thus, the "House with the Heart" ended a successful year in all fields of endeavor.

Tekes Have Largest Membership In History

The all-important scholarship is stressed at the Teke house.

Alpha Mu Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon was installed at Ohio Wesleyan in 1931. The national fraternity was founded in 1899 at Illinois Wesleyan. They now have the largest membership in their 27-year history.

In the fall, several men were initiated into the sophomore scholastic honorary, Phi Society. The Ohio Wesleyan band boasted a strong contingent of 15 Tekes, including the student director and drum-major. Many of them belonged to and governed the music honorary, Kappa Kappa Psi, while WSLN was staffed by several Teke engineers and announcers. Tekes participated on the baseball and lacrosse teams, and president John Williams was a member of the basketball team. The annual Club An-Teke, honoring the new pledges, inaugurated the social scene. Following it were the Christmas Formal, the Founder's Day Banquet, the Spring Formal and many other events often enlivened by the Teke Combo.

Phi Taus Win National Scholarship Improvement

Alpha Mu Chapter of Phi Kappa Tau completed its 30th year on campus under the leadership of Elliot Sluhan. The chapter received the national Phi Kappa Tau trophy for the greatest improvement in scholarship of the 72 chapters.

Phi Tau's were well represented in campus activities, along with filling major honorary fraternity roles. During the year a progressive rebuilding of fraternity membership was also started. Socially, the various formals shared the spotlight with a banquet held in honor of the six Phi Tau professors on campus.

The Phi Taus take a moment for relaxation.

LUMBER—PAINT—BUILDERS
HARDWARE

YOU CAN keep your head about you when all around you Are losing theirs and blaming it on you, If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you, But make allowance for their doubting too; If you can wait and not be tired by waiting, Or being lied about don't deal in lies. Or being hated don't give way to hating, And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise: If you can dream—and not make dreams your master; If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim, If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster And treat those two imposters just the same: If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools, Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken, And stoop and build 'em up with worn-out tool; If you can make one heap of all your winnings; And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss And lose, and start again at your beginnings And never breathe a word about your loss; If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew To serve your turn long after they are gone, And so hold on when there is nothing in you Except the Will which says to them: "Hold On!" If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch, If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you, If all men count on you, but none too much; If you can fill the unforgiving minute With sixty seconds' worth of distance run, Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it, And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son! Worly Plumbing Supply	288

• One Out Of Seven Students

The yearbook which you have been looking at and reading is a product of about 14 months' work. It has been published at an approximate cost of $17,000. About 150, or one out of every seven Ohio Wesleyan students, have worked on its staffs.

Work on Le Bijou, 1958, began in March, 1957, when the new editorial staff was selected by the publications board. The nucleus of the administrative staff was selected shortly after, and the basic plans for the book were made.

Before graduation, the contracts for the engraving, printing, portrait photography and covers were signed, and the counselor from Jahn and Ollier Engraving Co., Chicago, Ill., which makes the dummy layout, had met with the editors to determine just what was to go into the 1958 edition of Le Bijou.

The student staff determines what is to go on each page as to subject matter and approximate sizes of copy and pictures. The engraving counselor makes suggestions and the plans are sent back to the engraving company where the artists go to work in drawing up the basic plan for the yearbook.

Over the summer, individual assignments for the assistant and associate editors are more clearly defined and ideas for pictures and copy are jotted down to be remembered and applied in the fall.

Engravings of the pictures are proofed and then pasted into place.

During the first few weeks of the first semester, Delma Studios, represented this year by Mr. Whitfield Delaplane, arrives and about 1,000 individual pictures are taken for the senior and Greek sections.

About the same time, Judson Rinebold, of the Gray Printing Co., Fostoria, makes a call and type styles and sizes and deadlines are discussed.

The dummy arrives, is checked and necessary corrections are made. Ed Hackelman, of Jahn and Ollier, flies in from Chicago and helps make the changes that will go into the final dummy. The dummy is then sent back to Chicago for a last going over by Jahn & Ollier. About the middle of November, the dummy is finished and the staff begins to work on the actual pages.

Copy is written, set in galley proofs, page proofs and finally run.

Pictures from spring sports are printed and, after a selection is made, are cropped and marked for size. Other pictures for spring events are also marked and sent to Chicago where the engravings are made. Over 600 engravings will be made before the book is finished.

Delma Studios starts sending back the finished individual pictures and the senior panels are prepared. Through a system of cutting, pasting and trimming, 9 or 18 pictures, depending on the layout, are placed on a board and a single engraving is made of the group and sent on to the printer. Later, the same thing will be done with the fraternity and sorority pages, only this time it will involve placing as many as 88 pictures on a board.

Norks On $17,000 LeBijou 1958

About 600 engravings, made by Jahn & Ollier, went into the annual.

By Christmas vacation, the senior panels and activities are completed and work starts on the other four deadlines which will follow.

The book is printed in units or "signatures," each comprised of 16 pages. To accommodate the color engravings, some units contain only four or eight pages. The book must be planned so that the color pages fall in the right places. Some groups get a few extra pages, some get a few less because of this.

By January 15, spring sports, the academic section and some organizations' copy and pictures must be completed, as four signatures, including 64 pages, must be sent to the printer.

On the fifteenth day of February, March and April, deadlines for 64 or 80 pages again must be met. Associate editors and assistant editors must keep working steadily to meet the deadlines.

Sometimes the copy comes in poorly written. It is sent back to the associate editor to be rewritten, or if it is too late, the editor or managing editor must do it himself. The photographers are kept on the run; as often as they will avail themselves. The darkroom men often work as many as 13 consecutive hours. Their meals are brought in to them and they keep developing and printing pictures.

The copy proofs come back. They must be gone over for typographical and factual errors and then pasted up on dummy pages. They are returned to Fostoria and the Gray Printing Company. Later, page proofs will be returned and they, too, must be gone over with a fine-tooth comb.

After more than 60 tries, five good color negatives are sent to the engraver. They must be perfect, because, before they are printed, the six color pages will have cost about $2,000.

The index editor keeps track of the pages where each faculty member or student appears. The associate editors try to give her the names which are found in the cutlines written for each picture.

Finally, on Washington's Birthday, the future of the book is examined and the end is finally in sight.

March and April are used as cleanup months. Pages are re-arranged; advertisements that were counted on, but lost, must be sold somewhere else. The index is finished. The linal pages are completed.

The book goes to bed and Le Bijou, 1958, is history.

Finally, the end comes and Le Bijou 1958 takes its place in history.

Le Bijou

RALPH MORROW, EDITOR
LOUIS MEIER, MANAGING EDITOR
DENIS NOCK, BUSINESS MANAGER

1958

OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY YEARBOOK
DELAWARE, OHIO PHONE O.W.U.-355

Editing Le Bijou 1958 has been a great experience, to put it mildly. Many people have helped to make this book a reality. Several of them have gained a great deal from working on the book. As they now look through Le Bijou 1958 and see the results of their efforts, I hope they can say that it was worth it.

And a special thanks to the mainstays of the staff:

LOU MEIER, managing editor, whose tireless efforts, masterful intelligence and knowledge of the English language have made the literary section of this book. DENIS NOCK, business manager, without whom, there would be no financial success. JOHN BROUGHTON, assistant editor in charge of photography, an artist with the camera who probably learned as much about yearbooks and dealing with people as did anyone on the staff. BARBARA SAUVARY, assistant editor, who has made the introductory section. RAY HOPKINS, assistant editor, who handled the organizations involving the lion's share of the book and did more than was asked of him.

JOAN LEIGHTON, literary editor, who worked with Lou Meier, in keeping the King's English English. CHARLES KING, engraving editor, who pasted up pictures in the dummy and helped to mark many of the pictures for the engraver. JERRY CHILD, layout editor, who sorted over 2,000 pictures and then helped paste up the senior and Greek panels. SHERRY SHEPHERD, index editor, who tried to see that every student was accounted for in the index and whose pleasantness helped the rest of the staff over the rough spots. RON OCHES, associate editor, who started with spring sports, but who worked in other departments as he was needed. MELANTE SCHLAPAK, associate editor, who completed the senior section well ahead of schedule and then helped complete other sections which needed assistance.

JACQUIE DUNCAN and JON HILLEGAS, associate editors, who revised, planned, and completed the women's and men's living sections. BOB SHAW, associate editor, who wrote fall and winter sports. STEVE WHITEHEAD, associate editor, who did the administration and academic sections. GREG BORG, typing editor, who signed more girls to his staff than there were girls in the school.

MARTHA ROBERTS, associate editor, who wrote some of the special events copy. DICK SIMMONDS, associate editor, who gathered some of the material for the academic section.

SUE BODE, NANCY CRAIG, JUDY LONGSWORTH, PATSY NITTSKOFF, JUDI RICHMOND and the many others who spent free hours typing, drawing, cutting pictures or doing the little things that are so necessary.

SALLY ROBINSON, adviser, last and most, writer, artist, proofreader, copyreader, typist, comforter, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera. There can be no finer.

Ralph A. Morrow -30

Sincerely,
